REMARKS

Of she

Covernment of feverall Parts of Garmanic, Dennaric, Sweetlend, Hamburg, Lablack, and Hanflackique of Towners, but more particularly of the United Provinces, with fome few directors bow to Travell in the States Dominions.

Therefore with a fill of the sufenfilmatic Copyrian Entropy : with the formula of Honfie in Each Confed for the English Nation in Amilentum.

Printed in Amsterdam Anna Down. 1688.

REMARK

Covernment of Severall Parts of Germanic. Demanic. STATE OF THE PROPERTY AND ASSESSED. ounifultatil bon . toen Fourtes, but more particularly of the Hotted Provin-3 MAR 1961 empirisative of passes have been

Missaby Will; Qur. Centleman, at Conflict for the English Panish

part less that does

in the not Marsica Der A al ligaging 1683.

ROYALL HIGHNES

omorsome and off a se

PRINCE

not only at the takeing

ORANGE.

Heads of mal pulsari

Great SIR,

Rovidence the wife disposer of us all, sending me abroad to seeke bread

in a strange land, gave me the good fortune to be a spectator of some of the Heroick Actions of your Royall Highnesse, not only at the takeing of Narden, and the Grave from the French , but at feverall other places; I have been also happy in liveing long in the Hague where for feverall yeares I had the opportunitie of observeing, (or rather Admiring) your Highmesse wise direction and Government in the severall: Colledges of the States ,

States, where fome times your Highneffe hath been pleased to Act the part of the Pensionarie during his Indisposition; But why doe I speake of these things ?- All the world knowes that your Highnes hath wrestelled with and overcome the greatest Difficulties Imaginable, not feareing the frownes and unjust proceedings of some, who by force of Armes detaine part of your Highnesses soveranity and inheritance, nor could the large Froffers and Advantages offered to you by fome, at any time shake that stedfastnes and Princely refolution your Highnesse ever had to stand by and dye for the Intreft of the Common - wealth; No God hath certainely chosen your Highnesse to be a Moifes to goe in and out before his People, and to be a glory to the Royall Familie of the Stewards. And now great Sir I want words to beg your Highnes pardon for the high prefump-

y L

Y

fumption of Dedicating this fmal piece to your Highnes. All I can fay is that it would be an infinite joy to me if I could possiblie doe any thing to engage your Highnesse to look upon and accept of these Remarks, as comming in all fubmission from him who shall never cease to implore the Throne of Grace to preserve your Highnesse to be the most eminent Instrument in his own hand, for the good of Church and

Com-

Common - wealth; fo prayes;

Your Highne fe

Most devote and Humble

In a Statistical who who will need confe to imalgrae to a strong of a statistic to imalgrae to a strong of a statistic to inalgrae to be the most an
and on a statistic to and
and of a strong and Coms.

To

READER.

Here is nothing more odious (and Cam fare nothing that Thate more) then to be recorded a foole in print, and pet I must be scribling; But when I consider that the best of pens have mett with the like wisfortune, by being severely censured, by the Witth of the Towne, I am the more enconraged to fand their Shott. I know the Criticks of the Age will take my remarkes in peeces, the one calling me a Commonwealths man will fay, I have flattered the Government of Holland too much , others will fay I have been to severe in painting out the Defects of some Countryes, and Goverments : and there is yet another fort that will fay I am an Opimiator of an English man, in praifeing fo much myne owne Country; To all which I shall answer, that I never

the PREFACE.

inever designed to please the Wets of the time; what I have done hash been to Comply with the desires of some friends who designed to Travell, and therefore Ingaged me to print some of the ermarks I bade in my Travells, Dureing my 16 geares liveing abroad. This being the truth of the matter, I hope the curteous Reader will passe by any faults in the method I have used in discribing some Countryes, which is all I beg, who am yours &c.

W. C.

street of the south fay, I seemed the second for th

punting the same

the state of the s

Some Necessarie

REMARKS

for fuch as Entend to TRAVEL

Thro the Province of

HOLLAND.

S they that confine themfelves to their own countrie have not the opportunitic to fee and observe

Rarities in other parts of the world: fo fuch as goe into forrain places, rather wander at Random then travel, who have not the Curiolitie to Commit to memorie or writing fuch things they meet with, both for thier own and others Satiffaction, as may Demonstrate the fruits of their travels.

I Confesse all Travellers are not of of alike Temper : Some delight themselves in contemplation of the curiofities of Arts, fom are taken with the varieties of the works of nature, others speculate with a kind of Reverence the decays and ruins of Antiquitie, others studiously inform themselves with the transactions of Modern tymes, others with thee Gonvernment and Politie, other speculate the strange customs and fashion of the places they palle thro; To be short everie one labors to entertain the reader with those objects and rarities of forain parts, his Genius and inclination is most affected with.

As to my felf, although during the space of 16 yeaves travel, I might have inlarged, according to the curiositie and opportunitie I have had in the rehearfal of many rare and exquisite things verie observable: yet my chiefe aime was to make such remarks, as might most contribute to the common good of hu-

11

v

h

p

S

n

of

nd.

ns

9-

C.

TS

ie,

ns (le

FE

(e

t3,

ı

to

VE

72 ke

n-

11e

10-

at in this treatife.

We wil begin then in the first place with the Common-wealth of Holland, and Dominions of the States General which for some yeares hath bin in a declining condition,

hint at , is the Chiese End I aimed

A '2

and

Remarksfor

and their forces exceedingly weakned, by reason of that fatal war it managed against England, France and the Bishop of Munster, unto which if we ad the Intestime divisions of those two factions, the Prince of Orange and Lovestein; that Politick body was so tottered and torn, as did threaten its utter and total ruine.

But as bodies whither natural or Politick, after that a violent fit hath fore shaken, dissipated and exhausted their spirits, may recover vigor and look-lively again, if so be the radical constitution and natural temper be not wholie changed and deprayed: even so This Commonwealth of Holland hath visibly recovered strength again, as d probaly may attain to its former force and Lustre, except som deprayation in its vital humous should stil keep it languishing, and obstruct its perfect cure.

We wil therefore make some re

mark

B

b

n

g o

b

h

0

h

P

fi

te

th fo

ne

fie

Sp

C

var

sce oto

ans

ce Pa.

rn,

tal

or au-ot

he

m• ind

00 aly

nd its

31

cr-

marks as to the defects and faylings (observed not onely by me but also by others) which that famous Commonswealth hath of late yeares bin guiltie of: which I thal doe not out of any malice or difigne of reflection, the intention of writing this treatife being simplie to insert those defaults, which the wifeft of Authors have alwayes Judged necessarie not onely for the reformation of this,

ath but of all fates whatfoever.

> This Commonwealth of Holland hath worthily bin the wonder of all Europe during this last age, and perhaps not to be paralled in the records of former tymes: for if we confider how many yeares it was affaulted by the then most Posent Prince of Europe, who aspired to no lesthen the Universal Empire, and that how formidable foever he were, yet they not onely maintained their pretenfions, but with uninterrupted prosperitie and successulnesse advanced their trade, and spread their Con

conquelts in all the foure parts of the

Rome it felt though most famous and victorious, yet could not, as is believed, in fo short a time do, what by this Commonwealth hath bin effected. In India and Affrica they foonforced the Spaniard, and Portugefes to yeeld to them most of their trade and posessions. And tho England put in for a share, yet they were a long while vigouroully oppoled by the Dutch, and to this hour have enough to do, to keep what they have gotten: fo that in leffe then an hundred years this Commonzwealth by their industrie and art intrading, are becom so excellive rich and potent that they began to infult and would needs be Arbitraters to their neighbourning Princes and States, and encroach upon their

This drew upon them that fatalwar before mentioned, by which they were forely weakned and brought Territories and Dominions.

he

19

25

0,

П

4

nd

of 10

15

P

n

.

e

١-

8

d

fo low, that except God by a more then ordinarie Providence had protected and appeared for them, they had certainly bin ruinated and never able to recover themselves again, however their pride bereby was much abated: And as Luxurie and lascivioulnes are the lad effects of prosperitie, as wel as Pride, fo fuch vices in a bodie Politick and Commonwealth, as do corrupt the radical humors, by abating the vigour of the Vital parts, doe insensiblie tend to the confumption and decay of the whole.

That this Commonwealth hath much recovered its strength, may clearly appeare, if we consider what great things they have effected, fince the little time they have enjoyed peace: They have in leffe then 7 yeares built about 40 gallant ships of war; They have laid out vast sums of treafure in refortitying Narden, Ma-Bricht, Breda, the Grave and many other places: They have payd valt sums of money to their Allies for their auxiliarie troopes, as also 200000 pound sterling to the King of England to Enjoy their peace with him. And belides all this their Encrease in Riches and power may be guest at, by the many stately houses built within these 5 years in Amsterdam, Rotterdam and other places; to all which we may ad, to what excellive hight the A. tions of the East and West - Indie Companie are rilen, and the obligations from the Sates are so esteemed as to securitie, that they Can get as much money as they pleafe at 2 Per cent: not to fpeak, of the Exceeding encrease of their subjects, occasioned bythe French Kings tyrannie against the distressed Prote-Stants in France , Alface and other parts of his Conquells , neither wil we speak of other signes of the encrease of this Commonwealth, as not Judging it convenient to commit them to paper, but wil now proeced ceed to flew the Method of Living and travelling in the Dominions and places of the States, which if you do wel confider you May fee, how happie and easie the Government of England is , above that of other Nations.

es

g

.

r

8

1

The Brillin Holland is the Ufual place where the Packer and Kings pleasure boats bring on such as come for to fee the United Provinces: here be fure to furnish your felf wel with money. From hence you take a boat to Maseland Sluce or Rotterdam, which if you goe in Companie with others, wil only cost you 5 flivers : but if you take one for your felf, wil cost 25. stivers for Maseland Sluce , and a Ducason to Rotterdam. The Fifth part of which goes to the States for a tax , they call Paffagie Gelt : and the other 4 parts are for the boat- Men or Shippers, who also out of their gaines must Pay a tax to the States, fo that by computation you pay a fift pennie to the StaStates for your travelling either in boats by water, or in waggons by land

As you passe by Maseland Sluce you'l fee a verie faire filhing village, to which belong near two hundred Herring Buiffes , but if you goe by the way of Rotterdam you fail by two old Townes Called Flardin and Schiedam: yet let me advise you before you depart from the Bril, to take a ferious view of it, as beeing the citie which in Queen Elisabeths time was one of the Cantionarie Townes pawned to England. The Brillhad a voyce among the States, but by reason Rotterdam hath got away their Trade, by which having loft its former luftre, is now become shifting town onely ..

Rotterdam is the second Citie for trade in Holland and by some is called little London, as having valt traffick with England, in so much that many of the citisens speak good Einglish. There are in this citie two Travellers in Holland. considerable Churches of English and Scotch : and how great a trade they drive with the King of Englands subjects is evident, for in the yeare 1674 at the opening of the waters after a great frost, there departed out of Rotterdam 300 Sail of Englesh, Scotch and Irish Ships at once with an Easterly wind : And if a reason should be demanded how it comsto passe, that so many English Ships should frequently com to that haven? It is calilie answered, because they can ordinarily Load and unload, and make returns to England from Rotterdam, before a Ship can get clear from Amferdam and the Texel : And therfore your English Merchants find it Cheaper and more commodious for trade, that after their goods are arrived at Rotterdam, to fend their goods in boats Landward in, to Am-Aerdam.

This citie is famous as beeing the place where Great Erasmus was

Remarks for

12 born, whose Statue of Braffe stands erecled in the Market place; And although the buldings hereare not fo Superb as those of Amsterdam, Leyden or Harlem, yet the places worth the feeing, are, first the Great Church where Several Admirals Lay Stately Entombed, here you see their Admiraltie, East Indie, and Stathouses together with that caled, het Gemeen Lands Huis

From Rotterdam you may for 5 stivers have a boat to bring you to Delph , but before you com thither you passe thro a faire village called Overschie, where the French and English youths are trayned up in litterature, as to the Latin and Dutch tongue, Booke keeping, &c : from thence in the same boat you com to Delph which is famous for making of Porceline to that degree, that it, much relembles the China, but onely it is not transparent.

In Delph is the great Magafin of Arms for the whole Province of Holland: Their churches are verie large, in one of which are Tombs of the Princes of Orange, Admiral Tromp and General Morgans Ladie, and in the Cloyster over against the Church you have an Inscription in a Pillar of Brasse, shewing after what manner William the 1, that famous Prince of Orange was Shot to death by a miscreant Jesust, with his deserved punishment.

13

Delph hath the 3^d voyce in the States of Holland, and fends its Deputies unto the Colledge of the States General, and to all other colledges of the Commonwealth. They have also a Chamber in the East-Indie Companie, as shall be more largely spoken to, when we shall comto treat of the State of the said Com-panie.

From Delph you may by boat be brought to the Hagne for 2 Stivers, and an halfe: Which is accounted the fairest Village in the world, both for Pompous buildings and the largeRemarks of nes thereof; Here the nes thereof ; Here the Princes of Orange hold their Residence : as also the States General and the Councel of State, Here you have the Courts of Justice, Chancerie, and other Courss of Law. Here you feethat Great Hall, in which many Hundreds of coulers are hung up in Tropbie, taken from the Emperor, Spaniard and other Potensates with whom they have waged war. There Councel Chambers are admired by all that fee them. Many faire Libraries they have belonging to particular men. The Princes Pallace is a most superb building, And there are many costlle Gardins adjoyning to the Hague, together with that to the Princes bonfe in the Wood, in which house are in a large Hall the most rareand coftly Pictures of Europe, there allo are those magnificent and unparalled Gardins of the Heer Bentham, of Amestand and others. I might here speak of the splendor of the Prince of Travellers in Holland. of Orange his Court, of his noble virtues and valour, of the most virtuous and Beautiful Princesse his royal confort, but I dare not, least I fhould infinitely fal short of what ought to be, and which others have alreadie don before me : and therfore leaving the Hague , I shall onely tel you that from thence you may for 7 Stivers have a boat to bring you to Leyden. Leyden is a faire and great citie, and the Universitie is verie famous, beeing frequented by 1000 of Students from all parts, as Hungarie, Poland, Germanie, yea from the Ottomans Empire it selt , who pretend to be grecians, besides the English, Scots and Irish, who this years were numbred to be above 80.

The most remarkable things here to be seen, I shal summarilie set down: As the place called the Bergh, formerly a Castle belonging to the Prince of Liege in Flanders: The Stathowse, the Universitie Schooles,

5 6 1

Ć

o£

16 Remarks for specially that of the Anatomie, which excels all the Anatomie Schooles in the world, a Book of the rarities whereof you may have for 6 Stivers, their Phylick Garden, and the Professors Closes areal ravishing in rare Curiolities. But as to their Colledges, they are but two and verie small, not ro be compared with the smallest Hals in Oxford , neither have they any endowments, their maintenance being onely from the charitable collections of the Ministers of Holland , neyther are any Students to remain longer there, then til they attain the degree of Batchelers of Art: One of the Curators beeing demaunded by me, why fo rich a Commonwealth as Holland is , did not build and endow Colledges after the manner of Oxford and Cambridge, answered they had not so many able and publick spirited men as are in England, and to deal plainly with you, faid he, had we such Colledges, our Buresd

g

h

2

e

r ć

e

fi

17

Burgemafters and Magifrates would fil them with their own and their friends fons, who by leading a lazie and idle life would never becom capable to serve the Commonwealth, and therefore he judged it much better to put them to Penfion in Burgers howies, leaveing them to the care of the Professors, who are verie diligent in keeping the Students at their exercises , both at Publick lectures and in their private howses also, where they cause them Punctually at their appointed houres to come to their examinations and ledures, besides those they have in Publick. Thier churches are rare, so are the walks round the citie, and the fortifications verie pleafing to behold. Here you have the Kiver Rhine running through the citie and talling into it from Catuyckop Zee. Leyden is verie famous in hiltorie, for the long Siege it held out against the Spaniard. From hence for twelve flivers and an half you are brought to Harlem by water, being twelve

English miles.

Harlem is famous in that Coffer one of their Burgers, first invented the Art of Printing. This Coftor beeing suspected to be a Conjurer, was fain to flee from Harlem to Cologne in Germany, and there Perfe-Aed his Invention, having in Harlem onely found out the way of printing on one fide of the Paper. The first book he ever printed is kept in the Stathonfe, for those that are curious to see it. Here is one of the fairest and largest Churches of the 17 Provinces, in the wals whereofthere remain to this day flicking canon Bullets, fhot by the Spaniards during the Siege thereof. In this Church are three Organs, as also the model of the three Ships, that fayled from Harlem to. Damiater, feafing the Caftle in which the Earl of Holland was kept prisoner, and brought him away to Holland : In the Tower of this Church hang two GI- Travellers in Holland. 19 filver bels which they also brought from thence, and now ring them everie night at nine a clock.

Harlem is renowned for making the finest linnen cloth , Tyfinies Dammasks and filk Stufs; also Ribands and Tapes; They have Mils by which they can weave fortie and 50 Pieces at a time, they make the finest white thread and Tapes for lace in the whole world, there Bleacheries surpas al other whatsoever, their waters whitening cloath better then any in the seventeen Provinces: They have a most pleasant grove like a little Wood , divided into Walks where on Sondays and holly dayes the Citisens of Amfterdam and other places come to take their pleafure. Harlem is the second citie of Holland and fends in Deputies unto all the Colledges of the Gonvernment. From hence you have a passage by boat to Amsterdam for fix stivers, but when you are come half way you must step out of one boat to goeinto another, where you fee a Stately Pallace, where the Lords, called Dykgraves fit, Everie one of thefe Lords hath his Apartment when he coms for the concerns of the Seadykes, and bancks: here are also 2 large Sinces having gates to let in or out water from the Harlemmer Meer. Near this place about Ano: 1672 a part of the Seabanck was broken by a strong Northwest wind, drowning all the land betwixt Amfterdam and Harlem, which coft an incredible vast sum to have it repaired. They funck in this breach 400 fmal vessels fild with earth and stones for a foundation to rebuild the wal upon, and by unspeakable industrie and charges at last repaired the Banck.

I come now to speak of Amsterdam, which having bin the place of my abode for feveral yeares, I shall give a more large and punctual account thereof then I doe of other places; It is esteemed by Intelligent men the fecond citie in the world for Travellers in Holland, trade, and not inferiour to any in wealth. Certainly Amsterdam is one of the beautifullest cities in the world, their buildings are large, their streets for the most part pleafantly planted with trees & paved fo nearly, as is tobe found no where els in any other Countrie, fave in some of the 17 Provinces. And although, as I have alreadie faid , Amsterdam may Juftly be taken for the fecond or third citie after London and Paris, yet it hath neither Cours nor Universitie, as they have. And now in treating of all the excellencies and virtues of Amsterdam, I thal not hyperbolife, or flatter : for before I have don you shal see, I shal also faithfully declaime against the evils, miltakes and vices in it.

Amsterdam stands upon a thoufand Morgans of Land, encompassed with a verie strong wal and Bastions most pleasant to behold, with a veric large Burgaval or Grache as they calit, for the defence of three parts of the citie, the fourth being fecured by the sea or Ty. There are 13 Churches in this citie for those of the reformed religion (called dutch Presbiterians) to meet and worship in, with two French, one Highdutch and one English, all Presbiserian Churches, who onely are alowed Bels , and whose Ministers are maintaynd by the Magistrate. All these Churches or congregations make up onely a third part of the Inhabitants of the citie: The Papills who have eightie five howses or Chappels to meet in for their worfhip, make another third part, and have a long square of howses for their Nuns tolive in, who are not thut up in Cloysters, as in Papists countries they are wont to doe, but may goe in and out at their pleasure, yea and marrie also if they grow wearie of a Nunnifh life: Thefe Churches of the Papifts have no bels allowed them, beeing lookt upon as conventicles, and are many times fhut

Travellers in Holland 23 thut up, and again opened at the Scouts pleasure. The other third pare of the citie is made up by fowes, Lutherans, Arminians, Brownists or English Independents , Anabap. tists and the Quakers: None of which, as was also faid of the Papilts, have bels allowed them, but are accounted Conventicles: and all that marie amongst them, must first be maried by the Magistrate, and then if they peafe among themselves in their own assemblies, neyther are any of them admitted unto any Office in the Government, but onely fuch as are of the reformed or Presbiterian profession.

3oth Ph nd

e

The Jesues who are verie considerable in the trade of this citie have two Synagognes, one whereof is the Largest in Christendom, and as some say in the world, sure I am, it far exceeds, those in Rome, venice, and all other places where I have bin: Within the Court yard where their Synagogne stands, they have severa

Roome

Roomes or schooles, where their children are taught Hebrew, and verie carefully, to the shame of Christians negligence, brought up and instruckted in the Jewish principles.

Amsterdam for the wife Statefmen it hath produced, is faid to be a fecond Athens: others make it the Storehowse or Magalin of Europe, for that it hath such great store of Corne , wherewith it furnishes many other nations. And secondly for the exceeding great Magafin of Spices, which in antient times the Venetians brought by land, furnishing all parts of Europe, but now is don by the East-Indie Companie which not onely supplyes Europe therewith, but many places in the Indies also. Thirdly it hath inconceivable store of al manner of provisions for war, In so much that England and divers other nations fend to Amsterdam to buy Arms, Bufcoats, Belis, Match ere : yea here are feveral Shopkeepers who can deli-

Travellers in Holland. deliver Armes for 4000 or 5000 men , and at a cheaper rate then can be got any where elfe, and this they can doe by reason of their great Industry in the Ingroffing most of the Iron workes on the Rhine and other Rivers which run into Helland. Forthly Amsterdam hath more ftore of fawed and prepared Tymber for shipping then can be found in any one Nation in the world, and this is the reason why her Neighbour town Sardam is made capable of Building thips 20 per cent chesper then they can doe in England or France: So that both France , and Spaine do many times buy them in Holland : as . lately the King of Spaine bought 10 Capital Ships of the two Brothers the Melts Merchants in this citie. Fifthly Amsterdam is the staple where the Emperor lels his Quich filver not only to the Spaniard, to ule in his mines in the Indies , but for the making of Cinoprium or Vermillion, with which Amfterdam furnisheth not only Europe

d

1-a

c

f

3 7 2

s

V

e

e

e

t

S

Europe, but many places in the Indies; Sixtly Amsterdam is the Marker where the French King bought his Marble for Verfellis Long ore , and other of his Palaces in France: There are such Vast Magafins in Amsterdam that a man would think, that fees them, there were Quaries of Marble neare the City Gates: Scaventhly Amflerdam hath the most considerable Bank that now is in the whole World; I have compared the Bank of Venice with that of Genua and both their Banks write not of for much money in two dayes as Amfterdam doth in one : further I have compared the Bank of Venice with Hamburg and find both those Banks fall very much thort with the bank. of Amsterdam. There are many other particulars I could name, as Arguments to prove the great Riches & Trade of Amsterdam, as those vast Quantities of Wynes, & Brandewynes they fell in the North

Travellers in Holland. North & Enffeas , & those vaft Countryes adjoyning thereunto, from whence they bring Hemp, Pitch & Tar, & furnish France, Italy & Spain with the fame, & they likewise have much Ingrossed the Copper & Iron of Sweedland. I will fay no more of her stores & Magazins, but shall in the next place fay some thing of her Churches & Charitie to the Poore. I will not speake much of her Churches, but only that they are in General large and well built : In one of them the States have Spared no cost to exceed the whole world in 3 things (Viz) an Organ with fets of Pipes that counterfit a Corus of Voyces, it hath 52 whole stops belides halte stops, & hath 2 rowes of Keyes for the feet, and three rowes of Keyes for the Hands; I have had people of Quality to heare it play, who could not believe but that there were men or Women above finging in the Organ, un-

B 2

till

15

he

in 4/1

in

re

le

c lei

de

di

0

C

2

k.

y.

10:1

.

0

aill they were convinced by goeing up into the Organ Roome. The second is such a large Carved Pulpet & Canapie as cannot be found elsewhere in the world; The third is a Screene of braffe.

The Stathouse in this Citty is a wonderfull superb Building , on the uppermost part of which is a large Magazin of Armes. The Copper Statues that stand on top of the Stathouse are very large & peeces Exellently cast, Espetially that called Atlas, who hath a Globe of the world on his back that will hold 20 Barels of water, for me to speake of the several rarityes of Pictures, Carved works & marble in this Stathouse, & of the Globes Celestiall & Terrefriall that are on the floor of the great Hall, would make a Booke of it felfe; I therefore will speake of their Almeshouses & of the Government of the poore, of their Prisons & houses of Correction. This Citty is faid to have 20000 poors

Travellers in Holland. poore Every day at Bed & board. The Almeshouses are many & look more like Princes Palaces then Lodgings for poore people; First there are houses for poor Ouldmen & Women, then a large square Palace for 300 Widdowes, then there are Hospitals for Boyes & Girles; for Burgers Children & for strangers Children, or those cald Foundlings, all these boyes & girles have Every fonday & other dayes of Worlhip 2 doites given them by the Fathers of these Houses, the which the Children put into the Deacons fack when they gather for the Poore in the Churches; Then there is an Hofpitaltor fooles, & a Bedlam: There are Houles where Common Beggers & Gamesters & frequenters of Taphenfes are Kept hard at work: There is also a House called the Ralphouse where petty Theeues & fuch as flash one another with Knives, fuch as beg with cheating devises, women with fained great-

d

n

-

e

.

1-ie

0 te

3,

t-

80

of

ce

ce

ne

ir

n.

00

21

great Belly es, men pretending to have been taken by the Turk, others that pretend wrack at fea, & fuch as beg with a Clapper or a Bell, asif they could not speake or heare, fuch asthefe are kept hard at work, Rasping Every day 50 pounds between 2 of them, or Elfe are beatenwith a Bulls Piffel, & if yet thy rebel & wont work, they are fet in a Tub where if they doe not pump the water will fwell over their heads; Then there is a House where whores are Kept to worke, as also disobedient Children who live Idle & take no course to maintain them. selves, likewise Women commonly. drinking themselves drunck, and scolds; Al these forts of Hospitals &c. Almeshouses are Stately Buildings richly adorned with Pictures & their. Lodgings very neat & cleane. In fome of the Boyes & Girles Hofpitals there are 1500, in some 800 & in some soo in a House; Then they have Houses where a man or a Wo-Travellersin Holland. Woman may have their Dyet, washing & Lodging for his life, giving a small summe of money: Thefe are called Bronders houses, the Almes Children of this citie are held in fuch Veneration & respect that a man had as good firike a Burgemasters Childas one of them. These Children are permitted to travelin any of the Treck feuts freely without money ; These Hospitals are Governed by Men & women, as are of an unspotted life & reputed to be rich, devour & pious, it is very observable that the Women Governe their Women Hofpitals better then the men do theirs yeait is a General observation in this Country, that where the Women have the direction of the purse & Trade, the husband feldom prove Bankrupts, it being the propertie of a true borneHollands-wife prefently after marriage to apply her felfe wholly to ber Bufinets; but I forbear to fay any more of the Duch B 4

Hous-

VE

TS

25

if

e, k,

C-

n.

ene.

84

CS.

9.

10

ly.

d

28

ir.

n

ia

y

drill's

Z Kemarks for

Houswives, for feare of displeasing our English Dames, not so much addicted, at least not so Generally bred up to Industry; but to returne to the Acts of Charitie of Amferdam; the which is fo Extraordinary that they furpas al other Cittyes in the World, for they are dayly & honerly giveing to the poore, Every House in Amsterdam hath a Box hanging in a Chaine on which is written Think on the Poore, fo that when any merchant sels Goods they commonly conclude no bargain, but more or less is put in the Powers Box; These Boxes art Lockt up by the Deacons, who once a quarter goe round the Citty & take the Money out of the Boxes. Then twice a week there are men belonging to the Hospitals that goe round the Citty &ring a bell at every House to Know what the Mafter or miftris of the House will give to the Box, who Generally give not less then:

Travellersin Holland. then 2 flivers. Then every firft Wedensday of the moneth the Deacons in their turne goe round the Citty from House to House to receive what every house Keeper will give to the Poore , Then on the week before the Sacrament is given, a Minister with an Eldergoes round the City to every House where any members of the Presbiterian Religion live, & there ask if any Differences be in the familie, offering their service to reconcile them, alfoe to Instruct & prepare such as are to receive the Sacrament; At this tyme a Minister may be seen to goe into a Taphonfe or Taverne for which at another tyme he would be counted a wyne biber & the worst of Reprobates; At this tyme while thefe Ministers & Elders goe about the City on their Vifiations the people take an Occasion to give to the Poore. And here I ought not to omit telling you of their great Charitie to the diffressed French B 5

34

Prosestants, who are here in great Numbers. They maintaine no less then 60 French Ministers, & unto many handicraft Tradesmen and makers of stuffs, & Cloath, they lend lums of Money without Intrest to buy Working Tooles & materials for their work, but this is no other then they formerly did. to the Poore distressed Protestants of Ireland & Piemont , & their Charitie was not a littel that they gave to Geneve towards the building their Fortifications; And here give me leave to tell you what King Charles the second laid of the Charitie of Amsterdam, when the Duke of Lotberdal hearing that the Prince of Oranges Armie was not able to oppose the french from advanting so neare to Amsterdam, the Duke Jearringly faid that Oranges would be very scarfe in Holland, after Amsterdam should fall into the french hands to plunder, to which his Majestie faid that he was of o-

PI-

·(s o

is d ic

2.0

123

pinion that God would preferve Amferdam from being destroyed it it were only for the great charitie they have for the Poore, the which put the Duke out of Countenance; I will fay no more of their Charitie, only this that they leave no stone unturned to bring moneyes into the Poores flock, they make the stage players pay 80000 Gilders a yeare to the Poore : thert is not a Ropedancer, puppetplayer or any of that fort of unnecessary Vermin which frequent faires, but pay the ad penny to the Poore, which is carefully looked after by placeing an Almeiman at the doore of the Booths, to see that they cheat not the Poore of their share; I shall now in the next place fay fome thing of the Clergie, I meane thole called the States Clergie, for the States are absolutely head of their Church, & when any lynod of Divines meet, two of the States, are alwayes prefent to heare that they debate nothing

Remarks for relating or Reflecting on the Government, or Governers, if they doe, presently the States cry bo la mija Heeren Predicanten , & if their Ministers meddel with any thing relating to the Goverment in their Pulpits they fend them a briefe (which some call a paire of shooes)to quit the City, & some times Impriprison them to boot : but if they behave them selves quietely & well, as they ought to doe, they then are respected by the people as Gods upon earth; They have a forme of prayer sent them, how they shall pray for the States & Prince of Orange, nor must they meddell with any other Religion in the Country, because all forts are Tollerated , at leaft connived at by the Magistrates; All those called the Presbeterian Ministers or States Clergie are obliged under a forfiture to have done preaching & praying by eleven of the Clock in the forenoone on Sondayes, because then the Schepens goe

to

Travellers in Holland. to the Stathoufe, to marry the fewer Papifts & Lusberans & others that may not mary after the Calviniftisall forme , & the reafon why the States thus marry them first according to law, is to render their Children Legitimate, but they may marry againe afterward as they pleafe themselves : none may marry untill they have made their appearence at the Stathonfe before the Lords, where if the parties be agreed, the Preachers marry the Calvinifts , &c the Schepens marry all the reft, who differ from the Religion established by Law.

if

if

n

c

0

s

f

h

,

.

When one dyes the friends dare not burry the Corps until it hath lain three dayes open in the Coffen, that the friends & relations of the deceafed may be fatisfied that the party hath not been murdered or reported to be dead when alive, after 2 dayes the corps must be brought to the church before the Bel ceafeth tolling, which is at two-

B 7

for

for if you Keepe the body untill half three then the Church dores are lockt & for the first halfe houre must be payd 25 Gilders, & for the fecond 50, & so untill six, then they may amers you as much as they please.

There are many rich people who make that default on purpose, that they may have solemn occasion of giveing to the Poore, as I Knew once an English merchant did.

The next thing I shall speake of is the method which the States observe in ordering their Markim affairs, one of the greatest mysteryes in their Government; The States Generally divide their Admirally into five Courts, which they call Chambers: The first is Resserdam (which is the chamber called the Mass) which hath the Admirals Flagg.

Then Amsterdam which hath the Vice - Admirals Flagg, & Zealand hath the reare Admiral Flagg, the other two Chambers are those in North

Travellers in Holland. North Holland & Friefland; Each of these five Chambers have their Admirals, Vice Admirals & reare Admirals apart from the States Generals Flaggs, fo that when the States have occasion to fet out a fleet of an 100 Shipps more or less every Chamber Knowes the number they must provide for their proportion, tho in regard of its Opulencye Amsterdam trequently helps her neighbours & ads two or more Shipps then their share comesto; These Chambers have lately built 36 men of: war, & now are building of 7 more and all this is done without noise, every one building their proportion, & they have admirable methods in preserving their Shipps when Built, & their Magazins are in good order every Shipp haveing an apparament to lay up all its Equipage in , & on the Top of their Magazing are Vast Cifterns, which are Kept constantly full of water which have pipes into every appartment to let down

11

re.

ie

y

0

1

f

V.

.

0

.

e

2

1

0

down water upon any accident of Fire, & there is in their Magazins a Narfery Roome, wherea Woman keeps an Office to feed at certaine houres of the day a great number of Cats, which afterward hunt among the flores for Mice & Ratts; This great Magazine in Amfterdam was built in the tyme of Cremwell in the space of 9 moneths & 14 dayes , in which tyme the Lords: of the Admiraltie gave the workmen drinkgelt as they call it, to incourage them to work more then at an ordinary rate. At this tyme the biggest man of war the States had was the Amelia, in which the famous Admiral Trump was Kild, thee was a Ship of no more then 56 Guns , afterward made a fire Ship. But the States quickly discovered their want of great Shipps, and therefore built the same yeare 20 men of war, from 50 to 80 Gunns. But the great Shipps built at Amfterdam had like to have proved of no ple, Travellers in Holland. 47 tife, had not theingenious Penfionarie de Wis found out a devife to carry them over the Pampus, betwint those they call Water Shipps;

an ne

er

nt

86

in

of

hs

de

¢-

-

ıt

è

ŝ

e

1

The Admiralty have an Exellent Method in fetting out their Fleets, they neither prefle foldiers nor feamen , all goe Voluntarie at the beating of a Drumb, each Captain providing men & Provisions for his Shipp, who after they have received orders from the Lords to the Equipagemaster to Equipe out their Shipps , & receive the Povifions of war, then the Stares fend a board each Shipp a Chaplin, & Check Mafter, who take care of the provision of war, & feethat the feamen have the States allowance & wholesome food, & great care is: taken by the Lords that both Captains & Seamen receive their pay punctually for the tyme they are in the States fervice, & for the Incouraging their feamen there is plaifired on a Board hanging by the foreforemale, the feveral rewards to luch as either take or fire a Flagforps or take or finck any other Shapp of the enimies, also what pensions a wounded seaman shall have it maimed or disabled in the States service &c.

The Lords of the Admiralty follow the same methodes which the States General observe, as to their land obligations, & goe throw this great charge by the good manage, ment of their Credit, tor tho it be true that they are indebted great fummes of money, yet they never want a supply, nay, Moneyes are Merchants, who fend in their, moneys and only take the Admyraltyes obligations, with which they afterward pay their Customes, when their Shipps arive, at which tyme the Admiralry allowes them Intrest for the tyme they have had their money, & this is it that makes the Admiraliyes Obligations more valued then ready

Travellersin Holland. ready money, for it faves the trouble of telling, & fuch is the Credit of the Admirally that when they have occasion for any Goods, the people strive to furnish them, & rather take their Obligations then money, because they get Intrest; & all other assignments upon the Admiralty are very punctually payd, & without Exchequer Fees , no they are fworne Officers who are forbid to receive any moneyes for fees, being contented with the fallary they have of the States. And their Methodes used at the Custome House for loading or unloading Shipps are very eafy, in fo much that the Women Generally have the chargeing; & dischargeing the Shipps at the Custome House, which is a great politie in the States to make Trade easy for the Incouragement of the Merchants ; And the Admiralty are: very Gratefull & Generous unto their Commanders, if any of their Admiralls, or Captains are Kild at fea

of

ice

he

iç

119

C, it it is a 17 61 17

0

44

fea & have dove any Confiderable fervice, they then Eternife their memories with lafting Trophies of honor , as you may fee by those Stately Monuments of Trump, Updam, de Ruiter, the Everfons, & others, nor are they spareing in bestowing large Gifts & Penfions on the Widdowes, & Children of those as have ferved them faithfully & Valiantly in the wars, whilft the Treacherous & Cowards meet with the feverity shey deserve; I might here in the next place in large & tel you of the Exellent methodes they have in building & preferveing their Shipps when built, but I shall refer you to that Exellent peece written by the Heer Witfen on that fubject. And fhall now in the next place fay fome thing of their famous Company' called the East-India Company of the Netherlands , This Company at faid to be a Commonwealth within' Commonwealth, & it is true if you! consider the Soversigne Power &

Pri-

Travallers in Holland. Priviledges they have granted them by the States General, & likewise consider their riches & Vast Number of subjects, & the many Territories & Colonies they possess in the East-Indies, they are faid to have 30000 men in constant pay, & above 200 Capital Shipps, besides Sloopes, Catches, & Tachts. This Company hath by their Politick contrivances & sedulons Industry posfelled themselves of many Colonies formerly belonging unto the Spaniards, & Portugeeses, & diverse Indian Princes, & as good Christians have been at great Charge in Planting the Gofpel of Christ in many parts there, Printing in the Indian Language Bibles , & Prayer Bookes & Catechismes, for the Instruction of the Indians, maitaineing Ministers & Schoolemafers to inform those that are converted to the Christian faith; And now because I have faid that this Companyis so considerable & as is

M.CLC

le

.

, , , g - e y s , e

1

46

were a Common wealth apart, I will demonstrate it to be fo, first by their power, Riches & strength in the Indies, secondly what figure they make in Europe, & this verie briefly, for if I should speake of every particular as to their posessions in the Indies, it would swell into many Volumes , But I will only begin with them at the Cape of de Bonne Esperance where they have built a Royall Fort, in which they maintaine a Garrison of fouldiers to defend their Shipps which come there to take in fresh Water; from thence let us take a view of them in the Iland of Java where they have built a faire City called Battavia & fortified it with Baftions after the Mode of Amsterdam. This City is the place of Residence of their grand Minister of State, called the General of the Indies, he hath allowed him 6 Privie Conncellers in Ordinary & 2 extraordinary, Thefe governe the concernes of the Company

Travellers in Holland. pany throughout the Indies, & They make peace & war , fend ther Ambassadors to all parts thereof, as occation requireth. This General bath his Guards of Horfe & Foot & all forts of Officers & ferwants as if he were a foveraigne Prince, the whole Expence whereof is defraied out of the Companys flock. This General hath much of the Direction of Bantam and other parts of the Iland of fava: From whence let us take a view of them, in their great possessions in the Moluceas Ilands & those of Banda where they are become for formidable that they looke as if they aimed at the foveraingtye of the Sombfeas : They have also a great Trade in China & Papan, from whence let us return to the Ilands of Sumarra & on the coaft of Bengale, where they have feveral Lodges; In Persia they have likewife great Commerce & are fo confiderable that they wage war with that

ilf

in

re

ie

of.

0

re

9

e

m

n

y

SE

d

1

48 Remarks for that mighty Monarch if he wrongs them in their trade. They also have Several Colonies & Lodges on the coast of Malabar & Cormandel , & in the Country of the Great Magul, & King of Galcanda, But principally let us behold them in the rich Iland of Zylon where they are Mae fters of the plaine Country, fo that the Emperor or King of that Iland is forced to live in the Mountains whilit this Company posses the City of Colomba & other the most confiderable Garrisons of that Iland: It is faid that the Company hath there in their pay 2600 Souldiers, & at least 200 Gunus planted in their Forts & Garrisons. In a word they are not only masters of the Cinamon, but of all other Spices except Pepper & that they would also have, had it bin for their Intrest to Ingrosse, but they wisely fore saw that the English would be a Block in their way, therefore they contented themselves to be masters a

4

f

c

•

-1

of

Traveller in Holland.

ve

in ul.

CI-

ch a•

at

be dail

he

R

I-

17

10

7-

n

ac id

y

y

1

£

the Mace, Cynamon, Cloves and Nutmegs with which they not only ferve Europe , but many places in the Indies; I will fay no more of them in the Indies , But let us fee what figure they make in Europe. And first to begin with them in Amflerdam, where they have two large Stately Palaces, one being in the ould part of the City, and the other in the new; In that of the ould part of the City they keep their Court, and there fits the Resident Committie of the Company, where alfoe they make the fales of the Company goods. Therefor fix yeares the grand Councel or affembly of the 17 doe meet, and after fix yeares are expired, the grand Councel of the 17 doe assemble at Middelburg in Zealand for two yeares , and then againe returne to Amsterdam: The other leffer Chambers of Delph, Rotterdam, Horne and Enchusen never haveing the affembly of the 17 in their Chambers, so that only Am-

ster-

flerdam and Zealand have the bonour of that grand Councel, I will therefore crave leave to describe unto you the Chamber of Amsters dam, it being the most Considerable of the Chambers, belonging to this famous Company; In there house or Palace within the ould City are many large Offices or appartments, as first on the Lower Floor is their Parlement Chamber, where the 17 doe fit: Next to this Chamber are feveral faire Chambers for the Committes to fit in. They have also a Chamber of Audience, where they do receive Princes or Ambasadors, or other great men as have occalion to speak with them. In one of these Chambers are the Armes of leveral Indian Princes they have Conquered. On the same Floor is their Tresury Office, where their Receivers fit and receive money, and pay out the orders or affignments of the Company, Neer that Chamber fits their grand Mi-

Travellers in Holl and. Minister the Heer Peter van Dam, who is said to be a Second John de Wit for parts, but he hath not one drop of John de Wits or Lovestine bloud, against the good Prince of Orange; This great minister is a man of Indefaigable Industry and labor night and day in the Companyes service; He reads over twice the great Journal Bookes which come from the Indies, and out of them makes minets to prepare matters of concerne necessary to be considered by the grand Councel of the 17, and by the Inferiour Committes of the Company, and prepares Instructions and orders to be fent to their Chief Ministers in the Indies, I could fay many morethings of his great worth and Virtues, but shall forbeare least I should be Judged a flatterer : Overagainst this great Ministers Office fitt in a Chamber many Clarkes or under Secretaryes, who receive from this Minister their Ordrs of dispatches in the affaires of

C 2

the

oe

7.

le

le

re

S, ir

7

te

n-

y

C-

10

CS

re

is ir.

)-

10

CF

d

1-

Company, and next to this Chamber is a Register Office where are kept the Journal bookes of the Indies, where you may see the names of al the men, and women that have ever served the Company in the Indies, with the tyme of their death, or departing the Companyes service; Then pext to that is a Councel Chamber where the Refiding Chamber or Committe of the Company alwayes fitts Then affending up staires, there fitt their Bookholders, who keepe the accounts of all the Transactions of those that buy or sel actions of the Company, and over against this office sitts the Heer Gerbrand Elias who is the fecond Advocate of the Company: On this floore are several large Roomes in which are great stores of Packt Goods, and also a Roome with all forts of Drugs, Tee, and Wax, Ambergreace, and Muk, and on the same floore is a Chamber where the Commissiners fitt who governe, the Travellers in Holland. the Parkboufes; And next to them fitt their Clarks who keepe the Regifters of the fales of the Company Goods; And on the same Gallery or Floore is a Chamber where are kept the severall Bookes of Divinitie, printed in the Indian Language that are fent to the feveral Colonies of the Company: And at the end of this Gallery is a Magazine full of Medicaments and Instruments for Barber Chirurgions Chests, to furnish the Companyes Shipps and Garrisons in the Indies. Then affending up another paire of flaires, there are several large Magazins of Nutmegs, Cloves, Mace and Sinamond, and in a long Gallery are many men at work forting of Spices fitt for fale. Then ascending up another paire of staires there are many Roomes full of Spices, then defending into the Court-yard there is a Guard Chamber where every night the house keeper hath a Watch, and

141

ne

CS.

in

it

is

e-

he

n•

kof

le-On nes

kt

all

on cre

e.

he

and on the other fide of the Gate there is the Chymist, who with his men prepares Medicament for the Indies; Adjoyning to this Court - yard is their Wayboufe and Packbonfe for Pepper and Groffe Goods ; But before I leave this house in the ould part of the City, I must say some thing of the maner or method used in the Trans actions of the Jewes and others, who make a Trade of buyng and felling the Actions of the Company, the which is a great mystery of Iniquirie, and where it inricheth one man, it ruins an hundred. The Jewes are the chiefe in that Trade, and are faid to negotiate 17 parts of 20 in the Company; These Actions are bought and fould 4 tymes a day, at 8 in the morning in the Jewes freet, at a II on the Dam, at twelve and at one a Clock upon the Exchange, and at fix in the evening on the Dam, and in the Coledges or Clubs of the Jewes until 12 at midnight, where many tymes

Travellers in Holland. tymes the Crafty Jewes, and others have Contrived to Coine bad newes to make the Actions fall, and good newes to raife them, the which craft of doing at Amsterdam is not taken notice of , which is much to be wonderedat, in such a wise Goverment as Amsterdam is, for it is a certaine trueth they many times spread scandalous reports touching the affaires of State, which passe amongst the Ignorant for truth; I shall now in the next place fay some thing of their Pallace or Magazine in the new part of the City the which may more properly be called an Arfenal; It is a building fo superb that it lookes more like a Kings Pallace, then a Magazin for Merchants; I have measured the Ground on which this Arfenal stands which I find to be 2000 foot, and square every way, reckoning the Motes, or Burgals, about it; I remember the Ingenious Sr. Joseph Williamsen measured the two Rope allies by telling the stone figu-

ith

to 47-nd

TYC

he

the

ho ng

wi.

m,

are pid

be

ht.

in

at nd nd

es

figures in the wal, & found them to be 1800 foot long, the like whereof is not to be seene in the world. On the backfide of this Ropes allie lyes a store of 500 Large Anobors belides small ones; In this Ar-(enal they build the Ships belonging: to this Chamber : and here are al forts of worke houses for the Artificers that ferve the Company. And in a Chamber next to the Joyners Office, is a model of a Ship , they now build their Ships by, which cost 6000 Gilders. When a man beholds the great stores of Tymber , Cordage , and the Provisions of war in their Magazin, a man would think there were enough to turnish a whole Nation; In this Arfenal the Ships unload their Goods layd up in feveral apartments in the grand Magazin, and afterward is removed to the housein the ould part of the City, as their is occasion for fale: In the upper part of this large Pallace fit the faile Makers

Travellers in Holland. kers at worke, but on the Lower part of this houle is an appartment where the Bewinshebbers assemble upon occasion of Businesse; This Arfenal is not to be feen by ftrangers without a Ticket from the Bewinthebbers : Now al what I have spoaken of these two houses, or Magazins doth only belong unto the Chamber of Amsterdam; There are yet other Chambers of the Company, who according to their Quota, or stock in the Company, have the like houses and Magazins, as the Chambers of Zealand, Delph Rosterdam, Horneand Enkufen. And now I have named the fix Chambers of which the Company is compofed, I shall say some thing of their constitution, which is from an Offrey, or Act of the States General, by which they have foveraign power over their fervants in the Indies, yea their Authoritie reacheth their fervants in al Territorges of the States General Do-CS mia

he

H-

r.

y.

ıc

20

n

f

-

a. h

n

8

e .

E

nions ; It is Death for any of the States subjects to be Interlopers against this Company, nor may any of what nation foever that lives in any of the Companyes Territories as Burgers or fervants, returne into Europe without leave from the Company, only those called Freemen may depart without askeing leave to remove; The Grand Councel of this Company is the Assembly of the Seventeen , which are Elected out of the feveral Chambers before named, that is, eight from Amsterdam, and four from Zealand: Delph, Rotterdam, Horne and Enkufen fend one a peece, which makes fixteen, and the five leffer Chambers by turns chofe she seventeenth. In the Chamber of Amsterdam there are 20 Bewinthebbers in ordinary, who are for life, and have 1000 Ducatones a yeare and spices at Christmas, and their travelling charges, when they goe upon the Companyes lervice.

Travellers in Holland. The next Chamber is Zealand which harh twelve Bewinshebbers, who have about 250 L. a yeare and travelling Charges, and Spices at Christmas; The next is Delph which hath feven Bewinthebbers, who have only 120 L. a yeare and Travelling Charges and Spices at Christmas: The other Chambers of Rotterdam , Horne and Enkhusen have feven Bewinshebbers a peece, and the like fallarie, with travelling. Charges and Spices at Christmas, as the Chamber of Delph hath. These Beswinibebbers are Elected or chosen out of those Ad. venterers called the high Participanten of the Company; They generally chose such as are rich and men of parts, and wildome, most of them being of the Magia stratie of the Country. No man is capable of being Elected a Bewintbebber who hathnot a 1000 L. flock in the Company. In a word this grand Conneel of the Seventeen make

the

crs

ny

ics

to

he

-91

he

hal

s, e e e f

.

60

make lawes for the governing the Company, both in India and Europe. It is they that appoint the dayes of Sale and what number of Ships each Chamber must send to the Indies: and likewise order the building of Ships, and all other grand concernes. This Company is worthily Esteemed'a wise, Politique, deserving Company, spareing no cost to get good Intelligence of affaires, fending Messengers and Expresses. over land to the East-Indies: They have their Spies and Correspondents in all the confiderable Trading parts. of the world; They have been foindustrious as to gaine the Spice: Trade, not only from the Venetians, Spaniards , Portugueses , French , Danes and other Europian nations, but have also Ingroffed all the Spices, fo that, as I tould you before; they fell spices to the Indians themfelves: but this I must fay for them that they are a Generous Company and gratefully paying respects where now they have fuch a great King to

1

nd

he

of

to

he

er

is.

e,

.

y

38

S.

9

20

90

.

90

protect them, and that the Interlo-

pers are diffroyed. And now it is high tyme I should tell you the methodes a stranger must take if he hath occasion to Keep house in Amsterdam; If a man will hyer an house, he must take a lease upon seald paper, for which you must pay a Tax to the States, and pay the Broaker. that makes the bargen , but before you can buy a house you must be in a capacitie to be made a Burger, To this purpose it is usuall to take with you to the Stutboufe your Breaker or any two Securityes, and there before the Burgemasters take the oath of Burgerschap, which is to be faithfull to the City, to the Magifrates and Goverment &c. but if you buy either Land or Honfes, and lodge privately you will find your cale much worle, Then you must pay a Legion of Taxes to the mils that draine your Lands, and for maintaining the Banks and Sluces, and if the States have oc-

Travellers in Holland. casion to build a Fortification on your Lands, or to drownd them in the tyme of warre, you must be contented with the States Termes, and if your house or houses stand Empty without Tenents, yet you must pay the States Taxes on that house or houses; Thus much for the method how you are to be advanced to be a Burger of Amsterdam, and to give you a tast what you are to pay for bonfes or Land, if you fettel there, and if you have either purchased or hyred an house then comes an Officer from the Statboufe with a printed seald paper, who tels you, you must pay as followeth: first a pole tax for every male and female fervant in the house above 8 yares old, fix Gilders a yeare.

For a Coach if you keepe one

75 Gilders a yeare.

For a Coach without wheeles go Gilders a yeare.

For fope as the Number of the familic is:

-

lei.

æ.

P.

.

.

e

r

0

11

n

0

The like for falt:

For wyne as your Qualitie is: To the Rattelwatch as your house is in Greatnes.

To the Lanthornes as the large-

For Butter every 20 pound feven

For Beens halfe as much as you pay for the beens.

For Turffevery Tun five flivers, For every 20 Gilders in wood fix Gilders.

For Flesh the Tax often changeth.
There is also a Tax on the Bread.
Then there is a Tax called the 200ste penny, and a Tax called the 3th: then there are many Taxes in Trade, as that no man can weigh or measure out his owne Goods is fould in grosse, but the States Officers must doe it, Then the States have a Tax called the Verpounding on all Lands and Houses in their Dominious; Then they have a Tax on sealdpaper, and a Tax for

Re-

Travellers in Holland. Registering Lands or houses, likewile a Tax on Cowes , Horfes , Calnes, and all fort of Fruit. There are many other Taxes I could name, as a fliver for every man that goes out or into any City after the houer of shutting the Ports, allo you pay for going over fom Bridges , and passing thro Gates called Tolhek, a fliver for every persons, but Coaches, Wagons or Horfes pay more; Thefe I have already named; you will fay, are to many, yet I may not forget to tell you , that Milke first payes as Milke, and again if it be made Butter yea the Buttermilke, and whay payes a Tax likewise, for all which a man would think that a people that stand so much upon maintaining of their liberty should mutinie and refuse payment. But this seldome happens, and if it doth the States punish them very feverely. I remember that in my tyme there was a mutinic at Sardam about paying a new Tax, where-ou-

ra, od

hi di no con hi ii no c

C

whereupon the States fent a Regal ment of their Souldiers, and fealed the heads of the Mutiniers and hanged up 5 or fix of them at the Townes end, and severely whipe & under the Gallowes; And in the rich City of Amsterdam if any refuse to pay their Tax , the Magis Brates fend their Officer to pull of their Dores, and if they remaine long obstinate . they fend and fetch away the lower Windowes of sheir house, and they dare not put up others, until they have payd the Taxes: However this is observable that if any man will I weare he is not worth what he is taxed at, then he is free: but there are many fo proud, that they will not let the world Know their Condition, I Knew a Merchant named Ornia, who payd during the war for his 200fte penny and other Taxes for his and his wives Children, (haveing had two rich wives) 14000 pound sterlyng : I also knew an English Anabaptist Metchant winere.

Travellersin Holland chant who tould Mr. Envoye Sidney in my presence, that he had payd neare 4000 L. sterlyng to the war, and yet the same man did Grumble to pay his Majesties Conful a pittyfull fee or Consulat money on his Ships : the reason whereof I once asked him, who answered me that theKing could not raise a penny in England without his Parlement, and therefore much lefs, could he doe it in the States Country: Thus these Phanaticks had rather make bricks without straw, then pay the least tribut to their Naturall Princes Officer: should wee in England be obliged to pay the Taxes that are here imposed, there would be Rebellion, upon Rebellion: and yet after all that is here payd no man may bake his owne bread, or grind his owne corne, or brew his beere, nor dare any man keepe in his house shand Mil, althought it be but to grind Multard or Coffy. I remember one Mis Guyn a Coffy woman

the

gio

of

ne

nd

of 8

S

h

1

at Retterdam had like to have been fu rained for grinding hir owne Coffy, had not Sir Lyonel Jenkins employed his Secretary Doctor Wyn to intreat the States on her behalfe, and it was reckoned a grand favor that thee was only find, and not banished the City and forfiture made of all her Goods; I remem ber also a Landlord of mine in Layden bought a live Pie in the market and Innocently brough it home, and Kild it, for which he had like to have been ruinated; because he did not frift fend to the accilemen to accise it, and also let the Visiorasce that the Pig was free from defeafes. At an other time a wyne Merchant comeing to give me a Vifit, tould me that he had the rarest Rhinish in the City, and that if I would fend my maid to his Cellar with fix Bottels they should be fild : whereupon I fent the maid only with two bottels , and charged her to hide them under her apron, but fuch Travellers in Holland. een fuch was her misfortune that the Scouts Dienaers met berand feized her and her bottels , and caryed her to Prison, which cost the Wyne Merchant 1500 Gilders, and had it not bin for the strongest solicitations made by us, he had bin ruined: fo facred are Taxes here and must fo exactly be payd. And were they not here fo precise, it were Impossible for so smal a Country to lubfift: And therefore you may heare the Inhabitants generally fay, that what they fuffer is for their Vaderland, hence the meanest among them are content to pay what is layd on them, for they fay all what is the Vaderlands is ours the men of war are theirs, the fumptuous Magazins, Bridges and every thing what is the Vaderlands. And indeed in a fenfe it is fo for they have this to Comfort them, that if it please God to Visit them with Poverty, they and their Children have the publick purle to maintaine mte,

Yor oot

ure

m

y-

set

to lid

ce

16 nt ld h ld is h

them.

Remarks for them, and this is one maine reason why they so willingly pay their Toxes asthey doe, for theres not a foule borne in the States Dominions that wants warme Cloubes and Dyet and good lodging, if they make their case knowne to the Magi-Strases; and for the Vagabonds that rove up and downe the ffreets, they are either Walons or other ftrangers as pretend to have bin ruinated by the late wars. I shall now in the next place let you know how Exellently the laws are here executed against Frand and periury, and the Intention of Murders, which lawes were once much used in England, as you shall heare hereafter when I speake of the Duke of Brandenburgs Court. I shall here Instance a few particullars that hapened in my tyme : There was a Spark that made falle affignments on the Admiralty, who tho related to many of the Magistrates of Amsterdam, had his head cut of; and another who was a Clark in the Merchanu thread :

Travellers in Holland. chants bank, who made falle posts in their Bookes, and had his head also cut of, and all the Portions he had given with his Daughters, the Husbands were forced to pay back, and all his houses and Goods were sould at his dore in the open streets; I knew a french Marquis who swore his Regiment was Compleat, and when the States knew that he had not halfe his Regiment, he likewise had his head cut of in the Prison in the Hague. I also knew a french Padagogue a Runagado Monk deligned to have murdred his mafter Major Cavellio, and his two pupils young Children of the Majors. and afterward to fet the house afire to couler the murder, he had his head Cut of and fet upon a Post with his body on a Wheele neare the Hague; I could name you two others Cheaters, who were feverely whipe under the Gallowes: and two under Farmers who deligned to run away with the States money. The og

ule

hat

cy

ers

X.

Á

on ce il at at

n

0

4

233

72 Remarks for

The Cheat of breaking with a full hand is not so frequent in Holland as in England (where some ufe it as a way to Slip out of Bufinels and then to live conveniently afterward upon the Estates of other men) because in Holland they are more feverely punished when discovered, then in England : as on the contrary those that fall to decay throw losses and unavoidable accidents which they could not prevent, find a more speedy and easie way of Compounding and finishing matters with their Creditours if they be over firickt, then the Custame or law of England doth aford, for the fuing out of Seatures of Bankrupes in England doth prouve many tymes fo pernitious both to Creditour and Debter throw the tediousnes of the proceedings and the expensivenes of Executing the Commissions , that what by Commissioners fees, Treatifes and other incident charges, the Creditours are put to fuch Expences

fi

ic

k

D

m

21

E

T

es

fe

m

CC

T

W

Si

m fl:

cl

at 2

T

Travellers in Holland. ces as to be uterly disappointed of their Debt, and the Poore Debtors for ever ruinated and undone; I shall therefore in this place give a thort relation of the method used in Amsterdam in the case of Bankrupts, which perhaps may be taken notice of by our King and Parlement for the preventing disorders and fad abuses that dayly hapen in Executing the Statutes of Bankrupes; The Magistrates of Amfterdam everie yeare name Commissioners for Bankrupts, out of thole that make up a fudicature, like to our

4

of the

t-

n)

re

1,

1

et ħ

re

N

ir

t,

1-

g

es

d

ne

es

at ès

ne

1-

CS

courts of Aldermen in London; These meet certaine dayes in the weeke in a distinct Chamber in the Stathouse over whose doore is cut in marble the Emblem of Fortune slying away with wings, and round chefts turned up side down, with mice and Ratts eateing the money Baggs, Pens, Inkhornes and Paperbookes.

Tion requireth summon the partyes to appeare before them, and to lay open the true State of the matter? This done they either by authoritie feaze the Bankrupts Books and Effelts, or Elfe without any ftir and noise leave all remaining in the Debtors houses, and fend thither two Committee to examine the Bookes, and make an inventorie of the Estate; with power to compose the matter, without giveing much trouble to the parties. If the Co. miffioners find that the Debtor is come to decay by unexpected loffer and unavoidable accidents, to which he did not at all contribute, it is their usuall way to propose to the Creditour such amicable and easy termes, as the poore man may be able to performe, alotting fome tymes the halfe of the Eftate left to the Debtor, fome tymes a third part, and some tymes perswading the Crediteurs to advance to the poore man a fum of mony to help him up againe againe in Trade, upon condition that he do oblige himselfe to pay the Creditours all he oweth them, when God shall be pleased to make him able; but on the Contrary if the Commissioners find that a Trader hath dealt Knavishly and broaken with a deligne to defraud and cheat his Creditours, as if it appeare that a Bankrupt hath kept falle bookes, and counterfitted bills of Exchange, Bills of Loading, or pretended Commissions from fortaigne parts; In fuch a case they are very severe and not only feaze all the Bookes and Effects of the Bankrupt, but alfo Imprison him, and also punish him Corporally, and if the cheat be of an haynous nature, fentence him fomtime to death, whereas if the Debter be only unfortunate and no wayes knaveish, then the Commisfaries use all the Power they have to force the Creditours to accept the Poore mans termes, the which better for the Creditours then to ie find he con is he is he is he con is he con nie the Rigor of the law, in committing the Poore man to Prifon, feeing in that case the Creditours must maintaine him in Prifon according to his quality, where if he lyes a certaine tyme, and the diteurs be not able to prove to Prifoner hath an Estate, then the Debtor is admitted to his oath to sweare he is not worth 40 Gilders befides his weareing Clearbes, and working Tooles, and then he is fett. at libertie, but in the mean time let the Prisoner have a care not to make a false Oath , forthen he is punished without mercy, an In-Stance of which hapened in my tyme.

The States haveing admitted a certaine few to come and make fuch an Oath before them, were at the same tyme Informed by the Goaler that this few had been seen throw the chinks of the Doore, quilting Ducats of Gould and some Diamons in his Cloathes, to the Value of 5000 Gilders The States here.

Travellers in Holland.

upon admonished the few to take heed to what he was about to sweare, because the law was very ftricke against-such as made falle oathes before them, and at the same tyme called the oath and the Law to be and unto him , nevertheless the few offered to take the oath, but the Lords not suffering him to fweare, because then he must dye by Law, caused him to be taken out into another room and fearched, where they found about him the Ducats and Diamonts : this being tould the Lords they fent for him in, and then Sentenced him to have 60 lashes under the Gallowes and to be banished the Country, yet because the few had many Children, they gave a 3d part of what was taken about him to his wife and Children, and a third to the Poore, and the other 3d to the Creditours, which was enough to pay them their Debt; Thefe Commiffiorers are payd by the States and

0

1=

c.

e de

N

have not a doit from Debtors, or Creditours for all what they doe. These Commissioners are also much to be commended for their ready. nes to doe good Offices to those Poore Merchants, Who haveing lived honeftly, are brought to decay by lofles and Croffes in their Trade: who when they find any fuch so Poore that they can neither pay their Creditours, nor maintaine the charge of their Families, it is their constant Custome, to take their Children from them, and maintaine and bring them up in their Hospitalls, yea often also foliciting the Burgemasters on their behalte tobestow some smal Office upon them for their Reliefe , and Subfistance; And here I must not omitt to aquaint you, that as the Compounding of matters in Holland betwixt Debtor and Creditour fo as hath been faid, is very easy and equitable, so is also thier way or method of fueing for Debts very Travellers in Holland. favorable, which is after this maner, In the first place a note or summons. is left at the Debtors house, and if he nectlect to appeare, a second summons is fent , but then if he neither appeare himselfe, or fend his Prottor, the theriffs order an arrest against him, and at last when he it brought before them, if the matter be difficult it is referred to two or three Goodmen of the City, and tyme given him, but if the plaintiff make Oath that he apprehends the Debtor hath a deligne to run away , then must the Prisoner either give baile or return to Prifon. It is a remark that I have made in my Travells, that excepting France and Flanders I never faw in any Prifon above 40 Prifoners for debt at one tyme, and in some great Townes as in Harlem and other, some tymes not one; And the reason hereof is plaine, for you cannot lay a man in Prifen for an Action or debt, [mall, or great, but you must maintaine D 4

ich

ly.

ole

ng

to eir

ch

14 ne is de dir ge a

t

the Prisoner, so that many tymes the charges exceed the principall Debt, and after all the Prisoner can free himfelte; Whereas the Custome in England encouraged by those Varlets the Pertyfogers and Catchpoles of turning a man into Prison for a Crowne, or it may be for nothing at all, if he connot find Bail, he may lye and starve there, is an abominable abuse, as also that of suborning falle Witnesses, to much in use in England, which is Ex tremely cried out against Beyond fea. And now because I am Speakeing of Perisfogers, give me leave to tell you a story I mett with when I lived in Rome , goeing with a Romane to fee some Antiquityes, he shewed me a Chapell dedicated to one St Evona a Lawyer of Brittavie who he faid came to Rome to Entreat the Pope to give the Lawyers of Brittanie a Patron, to which the Pope replyed that he knew of no Saint but what was disposed of to other Travellers in Holland. other Professions , at which Evons was very fadandearneftly begd of the Pope to think of one for them: At the last the Pope proposed to St Evons that he should goeround the Church of St. John de Latera blind fould, and after he had faid fo many Ave Marias, that the first Sains he layd hold of, should be his Patron, which the good old Lawyer willingly undertook, and at the end of his Ave Maryes, he stopt at Sr. Michels Altar, where he layd hold of the Divell, under St. Michels feet, and cryd out, this is our Saint, let him be our Patron, lo beeing unblindfolded and feeing what a Patron he had chosen, he went to his Lodgings so dejected, that in few moneths after he die'd and coming to heavens Gates knockt hard, whereuponSt Peoterasked who it was that knockt so bouldly, he replyed, that he was St. Evona the Advocate , Away , away faid St. Peter here is but one Advocate in beaven, D 5 here to be

Бу

nd

e, at

io X

id

000

2

here is no roome for you Lawyers, O but faid St. Evona , I am that honest lawyer who never tooke fees on both sides, or ever pleaded in a bad Cause, nor did I ever set my Naibours together by the Eares, or lived by the fins of the people; well then faid St. Peter, come in; This newes comeing downe to Romes witty Poet writ upon St. Evonas Tomb these words: St. Evona un Briton , Advocat non Larron, Haleluiab. This Story put me in mind of Ben : Johnson gocing throw a Church in Surry, seeing Poore people weeping over a Grave, asked one of the women why they wept, Oh faid shee, we have lost our pretious Lawyer, Justice Randall, he kept us all in peace, and always was so good as to keep us from goeing to law, the best man ever lived, well faid Ben Johnson I will fend you an Epitaph to write upon his Tomb, which was, 18, ag es

in

ny

or

is

.

45

n

d

d

4

c

a

TIL

ė

God works wonders now and than,

Here lyes a Lasuyer an honest-

And trully old Ben: was in the right, for in my tyme I have observed some Gentlemen of that prosection that have not Acted like St. Evona, or Justice Randal, I will say no more of them, but wish them as great sees, and as much encouragement as the Lawyers have in Swisserland.

I now come to speake some thing of the three Taxes I mentioned in the former part of my remarques on Taxes, of which the first ought rather to be called an usefull and publique invention, like to that of the Insurance Office in London, then a publick Tax, seeing no man needs contribute to it unless they please, and find his profit by it, but the other may be called Taxes because the subjects are obliged to D 6

fubmit to them, but then they are fo easy, that what the Publick gets thereby not only lessons Extraordinary substidies, which many tymes occasions clamour, when because of their raritie and the argencie of occasions, they must needs be great.

Yet it is sufficently compensated by the advantage and securitie in the Estates which private persons, who are obliged to pay it, reape thereby dayly; I am consident that if the King and Parlement thought sit to introduce some or all three of these taxes into England, the publick charge of Government might be desrayed with more case and with less repining and clamour, then when it must be done by new and high suppositions, how ever our Governers are the proper Judges of that.

The first then is an Honse called the merchants Bank which is governed by diverse Commissioners,

Clarks

Travellers in Holland.

lick

Er.

any

be-

eds

ted ds,

pe

rce

he

ht

nd

en

nd

ur

of

r-

Clarks and Booke keepers, likewife a Effaymaster who Judgeth of the Gould and Silver, that at any tyme is brought into the Bank uncoyned, the security given for prefervation thereof, are the States and Magistrates of Amsterdam. Now if you have a mind to put money into the Bank, suppose a 1000 L. less or more, you must goe to the Clarks and ask a folio for your name, and then pay in your money at three or foure per cent according as the rate of the Bank money is high or low, or you may buy it of those called Cashiers or Broakers: then get the Clarks to fet downe in the foliowhat you bring in, haveing done fo you may draw this summe, or sell it in what parcels you please, but then if you let your money lye seven yeares in the Bank, you receive no Intreft for the same. If you aske where then is the advantage for the Merchants? I answer first you have your money ready at all tymes for answering bills bills of Exchange, and making other payments: you are at no charge for baggs or portage, at no loss by falle tale or bad money, in no danger of Thieves or unfaithfull servants, or fire, and above all you have the accounts of your cash most punctually and Justly kept without any trouble or runing the risk of Gouldsmith or Cashieres breaking in your Debt; for fach is their care that twice a yeare, or fome tymes oftner they that up the Bank for 14 dayes, and then all that have concerns therein muft bring in their accounts to the Clarkes, who a few dayes after, haveing viewed the Bookes, aquaint fuch as have brought in wrong accounts with their mistakes, desiring them to returne to their bookes, and rectifie their Error, not telling them wherein the miltake lyes, fo that I have knowne Merchants, in my tyme fent back three or foure tymes, with their wrong accounts: but if they begin Travellers in Holland.

CK.

is io

u

it

of

g

s 4 - ir wet

C

to grow Impatient and fay that they will stand to their accounts, then they pay a mulcto the Clarkes upon their Covincing them of their mistakes, either by chargeing to much upon the Bank, or forgetting or omitting what was their due. I knew two Merchants, who haveing for gott the one 750 L. and the other 220 L. in their accounts, were honestly rectified by the Clarkes, fo that they fusitained no lofs; befides this care of the Clarkes in keeping and Stating the accounts, the bank is obliged for five L. a yeare to fend to every Merchant, that defires it, their accounts every morning before Exchange tyme, of the moneyes written of by them in the Bank the day before upon any Merchants account, and what fummes are written of by others upon their accounts : fo that the Merchants may compare the Banks notes with their bookes and so fave much of the charges of Booke keeping.

Now if it be objected that though this be an advantage to the Merchants, yet what can the Publick gaine thereby, feeing the Charges of paying Officers, Clarks &c. must needs be very considerable ? I anfwer, that indeed it is a mystery to those who understand not the thing, but if it were once known and practifed, the advantage of it would appeare; For among other things which might be faid, The Magistrates of the Citty take out of the Merchants Bank a Sufficent Stock of money to supply the Lumbert, Banck that Lends out money, andis Governed by 4 Commissioners chofen out of the Magistrates, who sitt in Court every day in the Lumbert, which is a large pile of Building 300 foot long, containing several Chambers and magazines under one Roof. in these several Chambers the Commillioners have Officers fitting tolend money upon all forts of Goods even from a paires of shoots to the richeft

Travellers in Holland. cheft Jewell &c. This is a great convenicence for Poore people, yea for Merchants also, who some tymes may want money to pay a bill of Exchange, and prevents the Cheatting and Extraordinary Extortion used by the Pawne brokers in England, France and other Countryes. And belides the Poore have their Paruns lafely and well preferved, neither are they punctually fould when the yeare is out or denied under the pretext of being millaid, as the Poore are often tymes served by the wicked Pawn broakers. There is also another convenience in this Lumbert viz, an Exclient way they have of discovering Thieves, and the stollen goods; They publish two generall open falcs of the Goods pawnd twice a yeare, that such as will, may redeeme their goods and paying the Intrest may have them although the time be relapted. Thus much as to the Lumbert. I was once according to my duty to waite upon

igh

er-

ick

ges

an-

cry

wn

ner

14-

of

ck

lis

0-tt

rt,

0

nif,

d

n i-

upon our present King at the Bank of Merchants, where shewing his Majestie the way of keeping the Journall Book of the Bank which is of a prodigious bigness, his Majestie was Extreamly pleased with the Contrivance of preserveing it from fire; faying that the course they tooke might be of great use for the preferring Patents and the deeds of Noblemens Estates; This contrivance which perhaps may be thought usefull or imitable, I shall therefore discribe it , It is a large firestone shaped like a Chest, and fet upright in a stone wall having a large brass doore of a Vast thickness with flops to fall over and Cover the Lockand Hinges, into this cheft the Booke is drawn upon Rouls, it being of fucha Bulk and waight as cannot be handed in by a man, and there it is so securely preserved that although the house should be burnt, the Booke in al probabilitie would be fafe; Should I here give an account of the Vast summes of money that dayly are written of in this Bank, I might probably be thought to speake at Random, but this I may bouldly affirme that it fare Exceeds all the Bankes in Europe, both for Riches and Business, and their Credit is such that the Italians, French, Germans and English have great summes in the same, neither was ever any man resuled his money in the worst of times.

the

ich

his

ith

for nbe all

ge id a se e e e e

A second Tax is what ariseth from the just and laudable Establishment of a Register, A Tax which I think most men will be willing to submit to, Except such as designe to cheat and defraud their Naibours, and live by such like sins and Consusion, and for the most part die with the curse of the people; This Register in Holland begitts such assurance and Safetie in deal-ling, that in purchasing of houses or land, a Childe tho overreached in the Value yet cannot be cheated as to the title: The methodes of which Register. I have by me for the use of our King and Parlement when they please to Command it.

21

1

The third and laft Tax is that of fealed paper as it is practifed in Holland. The Method of which I likewise keep by me for his Maiestie and Parlements Commands. There are many other things might be fpoken, as to the Government of Am. ferdam, but I may not tyre your patience. However one considerable thing I would not passe by touching the Melitia; There are in Amsterdam 60 Companyes of Foot, the least of them haveing 200 men, some 300, which in a modest account, amounts, at leaft to 15000 men, in which number neither Jews nor Anabaptists who carry no Armes are reckned, only they are obliged to Contribute to the maintenance of the 1400 Souldiers who are kept in Con-Stant pay, as a Guard for the City, and for

nent

die

at of

Hot.

h I

fix

cre

po-

M.

TEC

12 ere

m.

h

at

cf

0 а

7

and towards the night swatch or Rarelwatch, who walke the ftreets the whole night to keepe good Orders, and tell us every halfe houre what a Clock it is. There are also upon every Church Tower, Trumpetters who found every halfe houre, and if any fire breakes out in the Citty they give a Signall on which fide of the Cury the fire is , and ring the Firebell , and they have Excllent wayes on a fuddain in fuch fad accidents to Quench Fire: but I may not inlarge any longer, but haften out of Holland. And yet before I leave Amsterdam I must vindicate her from a malitious aspersion cast upon her by the Ignorant, they accuse her to have very rudely and uncivilly affronted the Duke of York beeing there, Anno 1681 All which is very false, True the English Phanaticks of Amsterdam were fo malitiously wicked as to spread severall lyes of his Sacred Person, and flied up the Canalie as much as they could to affront his High nes, but as for the Magistrates they payd him verie great respects: first fending me to the Hague to know What day his Highnes would please to hopor their Citty with his prefence, that thereby they might be prepared to receive his Royall perfon with all the honor emaginable, being resolved to Treat his Highnes in their Stathoufe, and that the Burgers should be in their Armes, alfo giveing out orders for Ceacher and the Admirality Tages to attend his Highnes, when ever he pleased to come, but his Highnes by Collonel werden let me know that I should attend the Burgemasters, and thank them for their kind presentation, but his Highnes was resolved to see theit Citty incognite and therefore defired the Burgemasters not to put themselves to any maner of Trouble ; Notwithslanding the 'Magifrates Commanded their Tatches to lye ready the halfeway Harlem,

Travellers in Holland. and Vice Admiral de Ruiter, Dirick Tulp, and others went out in their Coaches to meet his Highnes, and conduct him into the Citty, at which tyme our English Phanaticks Especially those called Monmouths twelve Apollels did all that they could to ftir up the the rude multitude to affront his Highnes, crying out to them, This is he that brought thelast war upon you, and with his Jesmiss would cut all the Protestants Throats; But the next day after his Highnes was com into the Citty Burgemafter Valkenier the great Solon of Amsterdam , fent for me and tould me that although the Burgemasters which are the Soveraignes of the City give no Vilits to ftrange Princes, unless they be Crouned heads, yet faid he I have a great Ambition to pay a Visit to the Duke of York mapon feverall respects, first as being the brother of fo great a King, and as he is our Statholders Unchell and Father in law,

rie w

be T-

e,

01

e

3,

and odd d

ė

Remarksfor law, and therefore faid he you shall procure me Audience in the privatelt maner imaginable: for I defigne to goe with you to him without fo much as a footman attending me; here upon I waitted upon the Earle of Peterborow and Collonel Worden and Collonel Porter to defire themte. aquaint his Highnes with the Burgemasters designe, whereupon his Highnes turnd to me, and faid Mr. Carr when the Burgomafter pleafeth, whereupon I went immediately to the Burgemaster and attended him to his Highner quatters, the newes whereof comeing to the Citainene, they gathered together in great Multitudes to lee whether this great man their Petty God did humble himfelt fo far , as to pay a Vilitto his Highnes, whereas the other Burgemasters only

Sent a Secretary and one of these Pensionaries to Visit the Duke of Monmonth, and all Ambassadors have no other Complement but by

Travellers in Holland. eretaries or Penfionaries; After the Burgemaster had had a long houres Andience with the Duke in a Roome a part, I attended the Burgemaster to his Daughter Pelicorns house, the which was neare his Highnes Lodgings, for the Tumuk of the Burgers was fo great, that the Burgemafter did not care to pas by them, and being come into his daughters Parler, he began to speake to me after this maner, Sir, I never in all my life met with a Prince fo generally Experienced in all things , a Prince that hath far penetrated into the affaires of Europe, and hath the right measurgs of the prefent State of our Country, and discourses as if he sate in our Councell, but above all I was mightly pleased to heare him declare himselfe so freely touching Liberty of Conscience commending the wildome of our State in Opening their Gates to all tender Consciences sand that is it, faid his Highnes, ed.

4 4 4

di

ty.

15

9

7 0

ti

2

.08 that makes you fo confiderable enticeth the Rich Merchants other places to come & live amor you, whereas the folly of the Span Inquificion hunts away the chiefell their Traders the fewer and othen For my part faid his Highnes, never was for oppressing tender Co fciences in England : for nothing more difturbs the peace and qu thereof then forceingmen by Per Lawes to become all of one Religi To conclude, faid the Burgeman do but, Remark this one this and remember it, if you outli me , viz, that if ever this great Pri come to be King of England will alter all the Measures of Europe and possiblie become the Achi thereof: After which discourse the Burgemafter faid let me now per fent you, mijn Heer Conful . w a Glaffe of Rhenish sugne to b Highnes health , and pray when y have an Opportunitie to speake his Highnes, affure him that heh

Travellers in Holland. in Amfterdam a true and fathfull freind, and moreover he laid, when I speake next with our Statholder the Prince of Orange, and our Bensionarie Fagel, I will doe his Highnes Justice; and thus wee parted: but the civil deportment of this Burgamafter was not all, forother great ones of the Citty did their part alfo, as Vice-Admiral de Ruiter, with at least 30 Captains of the Admirally Chamber of Amsterdams attended his Highnes to shew him the Men of warr and Magazins of the Admiraley: likewife Sir Dirick Tulp and the Heer Peter van Dans and others the Bewinshebbers of the East-India Company attended his Highnes to the East-Indie House where was spread a Banquet of Sweetmeats, and rich Wines, and they offered his Highnes a present, but his highnes would not accept of any, only two large Bookes in which were Painted all the Beafts. Firbes , and Foules , and likewife E 2

to the second se

Remarks for 300 all the Plants , Flowers , and Fruite of the East - Indies, and because his Highnes had tasted the Mum in the East-Indie Magazine, and liked it , the Company caused twelve Cukes, to be neatly hoops, and gave me them to be fent after his Highnes to Bruffels; And I know it was the resolution of the Bewins. bebbers to have spared no cost I his Highnes would have accepted of a Treat in their house, by all which you fee that the Magistratu and chiefe men in Amsterdam were not guilty of Rudenes to his Highnes, but it was the Canalie And now haveing faid fo much good of the States Government, and d Amfterdamin particular, it will not be amisse to take notice of some Bad customes and practifes now in vogue in Holland, and leave it to the reader to Judge what they may portend; There are tollerated in the Citty of Amsterdam, amongst other abafes , at leaft go Musick houses, where Travellers in Holland. fewd Persons of both sexs meet and practile their villanics. There is also a place called the Longsellera Tollerated Exchange or publick meeting house for whores and Rogues to Rendevous in , and make their filthy Bargains : This Exchange is open from fix a clock afterdinner untill nine at night; Every whore must pay three stivers at the dore for her entrance or admission; I confess the Ministers preach and exclaim from the pulpit against this horrible abuse, but who they be that Protect them I know not, yet I have heard some plead for the tolleration of these wicked meetings upon pretext, that when the Eaft-India fleets come home, the Seamen are to mad for women, that if they had not such houses to bait : in, they would force the verie Cittyzens wives and Daughters : but it is well known that as money does countenance, fo Discipline might suppress that abuse. The ould severe E 3 and

m nd od pr.

H A

ed all

tes this is od of or and of the od

102 Remarks for

and frugall way of Liveing is now allmost quite out of Date in Holland, there is very littell to be seene of that fober modestie in Apparell, Diet, and habitations as formerly: In stead of Convenient Dwellings the Hollanders now build Stately palaces, have their delightfull Gardens, and houses of pleasure, keep-Coaches, waggons and fleas, have very rich furniture for their horfes with Trappings adorned with filver Bells, I have feen the Vanitie of a Wintners sonne, who had the bosfes of the bit and Trapping of hishorse of pure silver, his footman and Coachman having filver fringd Gloves; yea to much is the humour of the women altered and of their Children also that no Apparel cannow ferve them but the best and richest, that Franceand other Countryes affoards, and their fonns are fomuch adicted to play, that many families in Amfterdam are ruined by it not that England is leffe Extra-

Travellers in Holland. vagant then the Duch, who as I faid before got fuch great Estates by their frugalitie, whilest they were not addicted to fuch prodigalitie and wantonefle as the English are, whose excesse I can not excuse, neverthelefle the grave and fober people of Holland are very sensible of the great alteration that now is in their Country, and as they fay Paracelfus used to cure his patients of their disease with a full belly, so a good Burgemaster desirous to convince his Amsterdammers of their dissolute kind of life, invited the Thirty fix" Magifrates and their wives to a feaft: who being come and the Ladyes big with Expectation of some rare and Extraordinary Entertainment, fat down at table; wherethe first course was Buttermilk boild with Appells, Stockfish, Buttered Turnips and Carrots, lettice Salade and redHerrings, & only smale beare without any Wyne; At this the Ladies startled and began to whilper

e

. .

The second course consisted of Bocke de kooks, quarters of Lamb, rosted Rabits and a sort of pudding they cal a Brother here they had Dorts and English beare with French wyne yet all this did not please the dainty Dames: but upon removing away the plates another Dish of poetrie appeared, which acquainted them that after that modest and sober way of Liveing, they might keep what they had gott, and lay up some thing for their Children.

Then comes in the third course made up of all the rarities of the season, as Patridges, Pheseants and all forts of soule and English paslies, with plenty of Rinish and other forts of wyne, to moisten them,

this

Travellers in Holland. 109 this put the ladves in a frolick and Jolly humour, but under their plates was found the use and Application in verses, telling them that to feed after that manner was Voluptuous and Luxurious, and would Impaire their health and wast their Estates makethem neglecttheir Trade, and fo in Tyme reduce their Stately and new built flourishing Citty to their ould fishing towne againe. After this was brought in a Banquet of all forts of sweet meats piled up in piramides and delicate fruite with plenty of delitious wynes, and to conclude all a fet of Musick and maskers who danced with the young Ladyes; but at parting like the hand writing to Belteshazzar upon the wall; every one had a printed paper of moralities put into their hand thewing them the causes of the ruine of the Roman Commonwealth, according to that of the Poet.

X-

es.

1

f

Nullum crimen abest , facinusque: libidinis ex que, Panpertas Romana perit.

with an Exellent addice to them that it they did not quit the Buffoneriesand apith modes of the French, and returne to the Simplicitie, plainenels and modeltie of their Ancestors and founders, their Commonwealth could not long last; but all the thanks the good ould Burgemafter had for his kind and Chargable Entertainement in thus feafting his Countrymen , was to be floutted at, and pasquild, The sparkes of Amsterdam saying in all places, that the ould man being now palt the yeares of pleasure himselfe, would have none others to take theirs; And here I shall put a pesiod to what I thought fitt to obferve of the States of the United Provinces only I will beg leave, to say fomething to the Hollander by way of advise viz, That now they are in a pro.

Travellers in Holland. prosperous condition, Rich and at eafe, They would looke back and remember what God in his Infinite goodnes& mercy did for them in the dayes of their greatest calamities; for my owne part I cannot but admire the great providence of God in preserveing them from being devoured by their many Enimies they had in the last warr, besides their enimies at home, fome of which particulars as they then happened, give me leave to relate. At the tyme when the French came to Inuade the Territoryes of the States General, it then looked as if God had markd out the way for the French to March, by fending fuch a wonderfull drye scason that the Rivers of the Rhine, Beta, Wall, and other Rivers were fordable, fo that the French only waded throw, and became so Victorious, that in a little space of tyme (what by the Treasons of some, and the Ignorance, and cowardife of others In-E 6 trutrufted with the Militia, and Garris fons) the French became Mafters of above 40 Cittyes and Garrisons, at which tyme there was nothing to be heard of in the States Dominions but confusion and miserie, even in the strong and rich Citty of Amsterdam it self, who at this tyme beheld the French Armie like a mighty Torrent comeing within fight of the Citty, and at the same tyme wanting water in their Canalls, and Burgwalls to ply their Sluces, and fuch was the fcarcity of Raine that a payle of fresh water was worth 6 pence; Thus heaven fcemed to frowne on them as well as the French Armie, by the shutting up as it were the Conduits of Heaven, and yet a worse thing had like to have fallen out, for at the same tyme the Divisions grew so high amongst the Magiltrates in the Stathouse, that it was putting to the Question wheather or no they should not goe and meet the French King with the.

84

108 Remarks for

Travellers in Holland. 100 the Keyes of their Citty, to fave it from fire, and Plunder, now nothing in all probabilitie could fave this rich Citty from falling into the hands of the French, but an immediate hand from Heaven, and it had undoubtedly come to passe, had not providence caused the French to make a stand at Muyden, two howers from Amflerdam, at what time the Valiant Roman of Amsterdam Scout Hasfelaer like a true father of his Country opposed the French party in the Councell, calling out to the Burgers from the Stathoufe to take Courage and rather choose to dye like old Battavians with their fwords in their hands, then tamely and Treacherously to yeald up their Citty to the mercy of the French, as some of the Magestrates were about to doe, this fo Incouraged the Burgers that with great Courage they mand' the walls, and heaven then affilting them with a fuden and plenty full

rs<

f

e

2

.

full raine, that they plyd their fluces; and drouned the Lands round the Citty 3 and 4 foot high, in some places, which caused the Victorious French Armie to make a quick retreat, as farr as Utrick, else the Monsseur had payd deare for seeing of Amsterdam; Thus was Amsterdam delivered by the hand of Heaven.

A fecond was, when that Bloody Duke of Luxenburg, who gloryed and thanked God that he was borne without pitty or remors of Conscience, took the opportunitye of an exceeding hard frost to march his Armie over the Ice as it had been drye ground, burning in his way the three taire Villages of Bodygrave, Swammerdam and Gondfe - fluys. Acting therea mose cruell Tradigie and worse thenever did Turk, for they Generally fave the Country people for Ransom, but this cruell Prince caused strong Guards to furround the yillages, and burnd men, Wos

Travellers in Holland. Women and Children together Thus he began his march with a defigne to burne Leyden , Hague, Rotterdam , Delph and all the rich-Country of Rhineland: and this he might have done in all probabilitie, for first the Governor of Newsluce: who commanded the post that should have flopt the French, Treacheroully delivered up the fort without firing a Gunn, and the handfull of Troopes then under General Koningsmark were so Inconsiderable that they joyned to the Souldiers under Pain and Vin the Governer of new Sluce were not Able to make head as could oppose Luxenburgs Armie, and at the fame tyme the good Prince of Orange was with the States Armie at Charle le Roy. Now was Leyden ready to meet the French with the Keyes of their Citty, and other Cittyes too, for they had neither fortifications nor Souldiers to man their walls; Thus the wholeCountry and Cittyes of Rhineland

172 Remarks for

fand were like to fall under the Crueltyes and Tyranny of the. Prench, but God a second tyme fent these people reliefe from Heaven, first by giveing such undanted Courage to that great States man Pensionarie Fagel that he forced Koningemark to Rally his Troopes together and to make a Stand neare Leyden, offering himfelfe to dye at the head of them if there were occasion, but God referved him for a furder good to the Commonwealth by fending fuch a fudden Thaw as was never feen before, for in less then ten howers the Ice fo funk and fuch Floods of fnow came downe from the high lands that the French were fain to make avery disorderly retreat, Marching up to the middel for haft , becaute on the Banks there could not march above four men a breft , fo they were constrained to leave behind them the greatest part of the Plunder they had robed from the Innocent

Travellers in Holland. 173
cent Country people, and the nimble Duch men on their Scatfes folong as the Ice would beare them, did shoot downe the French like Ducks diving under water, sothat it cost Luxenburgs Armie deare, tho they had the pleasure to burne the poore people, of which the French afterward wickedly made their boast.

The third was as wonderfull as the two others, and although I doe not believe miracles, as doe the Papilts , yet I fay nothing I ever observed looked more like a Miracle then this, to wit, when the English and French Fleet lay before Scheveling with a deligne to land, and the French ready on their March to joyne with the English and other French as foon as they thould land, at the same tyme the Bisihop of Munster lyeing before Groeningen, and the French before Gorcom, fo that now all things looked with a dreadfoll face for the States, yet at this Remarks for very tyme God fent a. 34 reliefe by fending fuch Milts, and wonderfullfortsot Tydes, as fo separated the two Fleets, that the English were forced to quit Scheveling thore, and were driven on the fide of the Texel Roade ; from whence they wereconstrained by the season of the yeare to retire home, and fuch were the fudden & great showers of raine that the Bifshop of Munster was forced in disorder to raise his siege at Groeningen, and the French to quit Gorcom; I could ad many more obfervations of the Providences of God to these people , as the preferveing the Prince of Orange from the many treacherous designes contrived against him from his Cradel, but Moles must be preferved, to goe in and out before his people, certainely never young Prince Indured to many fatigues as did his Highnes in his tender yeares, of which I was an eye witnes, and had his Highnes had the yeares and Experience, and

his

fu

m

lie

K

fuch

Travellers in Holland. 114 fuch a good disciplinde Armie (as now he hath) in the yeare 1671 when the French Entered the Country his Highnes had given them as good welcome as he did at Bergen. I will fay no more of this fubject only this , that the peace at Nimwegen was also a very wonderful thing, for that not above 8 dayes before the peace was figned, most of the Plenipotentiaries did believe the war would have continued another yeare; first because the King of Donmark and Duke of Brandenburg prospered Exceedingly against Sweedland, and totally refuled the propolitions of France and fecondly because the French. King writ fuch Bitter-letters against the States Generall : yet 8 dayes atter drest a letter unto the States in which he calles them his good friends, and old Allyes, offering them not only Maftricht but every foot of ground they could lay claime to in the world, also giveing them DCW

YH ce

. . .

new Termes, and Conditions as te their priviledges in France, by way of Trade: Neither can I forget how speedilie and as strangly the mighty French King did quit his Conquered Townes after the Valiant Prince of Orange took Naerden, which was the first step to the Frenchs ruine in the States Dominions, I come now, according to promess in the beginning of this book, to give the reader some Remarkes I made in other Countries where I have been during my fixteen years travels. To give a full account of all that might be observed in so many Countries; is not a taske for one man, nor a fubject for fo fmall a book ; I shall onely therefore briefely take notice of some remarkable matters which may in some measure satisfie the curiofitie of my Country men who bave not been in the faid places; and convince, if possible, all of them, that no Countrey that ever I was in , afords fo great conveniencies

Travellers in Holland. cies for the generalitie of people to live in , as the Kingdome of England doth. Though I have twice made the grand tour of Germany, Hungary, Italy and France , and after my return back to England travelled a third time through Holland as for as Strasbourg, and so back by Francfort to Denmark and Sueden ; yet the reader is not to expect I thould follow a Geographicall method and order in speaking of the places I have been in; that is to be lookt for in the map, and not in trawels; but onely that I mention places as I found them on my rode according as bnfines or curiofitie led mee to travel.

w

ty

ed

of!

25

in

W

1-le"

in

'n

0

12

e

The first considerable place I then met with, after I was out of the dominions of the States General was Cleave the capital citie of the Province so called, a fair and lovely citie standing upon the Rhine and the rivers Wall and Leek. This Province much resembles Eng-

Remarks for land in rich foyl and pleasantness of its rivers. The inhabitants of the Countrey would have mee beleeve that they were originally descended of those Saxons who made a descent in to England, and conquered it; and to convince the truth of this, shey shew'd mee a cloyster standing on a hill, called Elibam, from which they fay our Elsbum in Kent had its name. I was made to observe alfo two places standing upon the Rhine neare Emmerick called Dondford , and Grovewich, which according to them , gave the names to Deaford and Greenwich in England; but many fuch analogies and fimilitudes of names are so be found in other places of Germany, but efpecially in uper Saxony and Denmark. The greatest part of this Province Ne of Cleave, and part of the duchy's of Julieres and Berg , and of the Provinces of Marke and Ravens Storbenry belongs to the Elector of Brandenbeurg, the rest belonging ounce of las of 44

cve

led

nd dey on haid we he

á

From Cleane I went to a small town called Rhinberg, but a very strong fortification belonging to the Elector of Cologne; which dies at two miles distance from the citie of Wesel that belongs to the Elector of Brandenbourg. Through Disseldorpe scituated on the Rhine, and the Residence of the duke of night in the territories of the Bishop ot Ofnabrug.

New-

Newbourg, I went next to Cologne a very large city, called by the Romans Colonia Agrippina, and the French Rome d'Allema-gue.

Cologne is an Imperial citie and a Republick, though for some things it does Homage to the Elector of that name, and receives an oath from him. It is much decayed within these hundred years , having been much priest ridden, a misfortune that hath undone many other great cities. The Jesuits have had fo great influence upon the Magistrate, that they prevailed with them to banish all Protestants, who removed to Hambourg and Amfterdam, to that Cologne is become lo difpeopled, that the houses dayly fall to ruine for want of inhabitants, and a great deal of corn and wine now grows within the walls, upon ground where houses formerly flood. I dare be bold to affirm that there is twice the number of inhabitants in the al

Pi

21

d

fi

nit

t

b

Travellers in Colongne. parish of St. Martins in the fields, then there is in Cologne; and yet it contains as many parish churches, monasteries and chappels, as there are days in the year. The ftreets are very large, and so are the houses also, in many of which one may drive a Coach or waggon into the first room from the streets; but the fireets are fo thin of people, that one may pass some of them and not meet ten men or women , unless it be Church men or Religious fifters. The most considerable inhabitants of the citie are Protestant Merchants, tho but few in number, and they not allowed a Church neither, but a place called Woullin a mile without the citie: the rest of the inhabitants who are lay men are miserably poor. There are no less than 2000 Students in Cologne taught by the Jesoits gratis, who have the priviledge to beg in musicall notes in the day time, and take to them selves the liberty of borrowing

te

17

-

d sift h

g

t

,

rowing hats and cloaks in the night but if in the Jesuits Schools there be any rich Burgemasters sons who have parts, they are fure to be fnapt up and adopted into the societie. Formerly, before the matter was otherwise adjusted in the diet of Ratisbonne, there have been deligns of voteing Protestant Magistrats into the government again; but fo foon as the Jeluits come to discover who of the Magistrats were for that, they immediately preferred their fonsor daughters, and made them chanons, abbots or chanoneffes, and fo diverted them by interest. It's picy to fee a city so famous for traffike in former times now brought to fo great a decay, that were it not for the trade of Rhenish wine it would be utterly forfaken, and left wholy to the Church men. The continuall alarms the Magistraus have had by forreign deligns upon their liberty, and the jealousies fomented among themselfs, as it is thought,

.

Travellersin Cologne. thought, by the Agents and favourers of France, and especially the Bilhop of Strafbourg, have for feverall yeares kept them in contimull difquiet , and necessitated them to raife great taxes which hath nota litle contributed to the impoverithing of the people especially the boars round about ; who thothe Countrey they live in be one of the most pleasant and fertile plains of Germany, yet are so wretchedly poor that canvas cloaths, wooden thoes, and straw to sleep on in the same room with their beafts, is the greatelt worldly happiness that most of them can attain unto. The Elector of Cologne is a venerable old man, Bishop of four great bishopricks, viz Cologne, Liege, Munfter, and Heldershime. He divides his time betwist his devotion and experimental studies, being punctuallin saying of mals every morning, and constant in his Elaboratory in the afternoon; for he is much addicted pt ic.

10

25

of

ns to

no no

ey

10

15,

î-

to

in (a or ld

ly

ıΝ

ıd

i-

0-il,

therefore proceed.

From Cologne I took water on the Rhine and advanced to the citie of Bon and fo forward to Coblines the relidence of the Elector of Trier. over against this city, on the other fide of the Rhine stands that impregnable fort called Herminshine, built on a high rocky hill as high again as Windforcastle, and on the porth fide of it the River Mofel falls into the Rhine, over which there is a Stately stone bridge. This Prince governs his subjects as the other Spirituall Electors doe, that is, both by temporall and spirituall authoTravellers in Trier. 125 authority, which in that Country is pretty absolute. The chiefe trade of this Countrey is in wine, corn, wood and Iron.

d.

ee

A.

201

d

d

i

n

8

4

2

.

h

e

1

S

e

The next Countrey I came to was that of the Elector of Mayence who is likewise both a secular and Ecclefiasticall Prince and governs his fubjects accordingly. He is reckoned to be wholely for the Interests of the French King; who notwithstanding of that, pretends a title to the citadel of Mayence. As I was upon my Journey to Mayence by land, I made a turn down the Rhin to visit the famous litle city of Backrack, and some towns belonging to the Landgrave of Hessen, but especially Backrack, because Travellers say it much refembles ferufalem in its scituation and manner of buildings. The Burgemaster of this city told mee that the whole Country about Backrack does not yield above 200 fouders of wine a year; And yet the

126 Remarks for the Merchants of Dore by an art' of multiplication which they have used some years , furnish England with severall thousande of fouders. Here I shall take the liberty torelate a strange story which I found recorded in this Countrey; tho I know to be mentioned in History. There was a certain cruel and inhumane Bishop of Mayence, who in s year of great fearcity and famine when agreat number of Poor people came to his gates begging for bread, caused the Poor wretches, men, women and children to be put into a barn, under pretext of relieving their necessities; but fo soon as they were got in, caused the barndoors to be thut, fire fet to it, andfo burnt themall alive: And whil'fts the poor wretches cried and shreeked out for horrour and pain, the Barbarous miscreant said to those that were about him, harke how the Rats and mice doe crie. But the just Judgement of God suffereds. dI

n

e

.

il.

red not the tact to pals unpunished; for not long after the cruel Bishop was fo haunted with Rats and mice, that all the guards he kept about him, could not secure him from them, neither at table nor in bed, At length he resolved to flee for fafetie into a tower that stood in the midle of the Rhine; but the Rats purfued him, got into his chamber and devoured him alive; fo that the Justice of the Almighty made him a prey to vermine who had inhumanely reckoned his fellow Chriflians to be fuch. The tower which I faw, to this day is called the Rats-tower, and the story is upon recordin the city of Mayence.

On my Journey from thence I came to the litle village of Hockom not far diftant, famous for our Hockomore wine, of which though the place does not produce above 150 fouders a year; yet the lngenions Hollanders of Dore make some thousand fouders of it goe F: 4. of of, in England and the Indies. From Hockom I proceeded to. Francfort a pleasant city upon the river of Maine, called formerly Tentoburgum and Helenopolis and fince Francfort, becaus here the Franconians who came out of the Province of Franconia fourded over, when they went upon their expedition into Gallia, which they conquered and named it France : and I thought it might very well deferve the name of Petty-London, because of its Priviledges, and the humour of the citizens. It is a Hanfiatick and Imperiall town and Commonwealth, the Magistrats being Lutherans which is the publick established Religion; though the Cathedrall church belongs to the Roman. Catholicks who also have severall monasteries there. The citie is populous and frequented by all forts of Merchants, from most parts of Europe, & part of Afia alfo, becaus of the two great faires that are yearely kept

2

c

E

Travellers in Frantfort. kept there, Many Jews live in this city, and the richest Merchants are Calvinists, who are not suffered to have a Church in the town, but half an houres journey out of it, at splace called Bucknam, where I have told feventy four Coaches at a time all belonging to Merchants of the city. It was in ancient times much enriched by Charle le maigne and hath been fince by the constitution of the Golden bull: amongst other honours & Priviledges its appointed to be the place of the Emperours Election, where many of the ornaments belonging to that August ceremonicare to be feen. It is frongly fortified having a flately stone bridge over the Maine that joynes it to Saxes boufon the quarter of the great mafter of the Toutonick order. The government is easy to the people, they not being taxed as other cities are, and had it not been for the Alarmes the French gave them during the last war, they had not been F 5 much 0 ie y die e

.

130 Remarks for

much troubled, but being forced to keep three or four thousand men in constant pay to defendtheir fortifications, the Magistrats were constrained to raise money by a tax. Befides that of the Emperour, they are under the protection of some neighbouring Princes, as of the Landgrave of Hellen-Caffells, Landgraveof Armestade, the Count of Solmes and the count of Hanan , who are either Lutherans or Calvinifts ,. amongst whom the Late Elector Palatine was also one; but whether the present who is Roman Catholick be fo or not, I cannot tel. This city takes great care of their poor, and in their charitie to poor travellers exceed Holland. I have feen a lift of seaven thousand whom they relieved in one year. Their great hospitall is a large court or palace, where the English Merchants formerly lived, in the time of Queen mary's persecution of the Protestants, who when they were recalled by Ogeen.

Travellers in Francfort. 131 Queen Elisabeth were so generous s to give the whole court, with alltheir Packhouses and lands to the poor of the city. It was my fortune to be there in that cold Winter in the year 168 ; and faw a ceremonie performed by the Wine coopers of the citie, who are obliged by law, that when ever the Maine lyes fast frozen over for eight days together, to make a great Fouder fat, Hoops and Staves; and fet it up compleat upon the Ice. It was very good diverfion to fee fo many hands at worke, and to observe the jollity and mirth of the many thousands of spectators who wanted not plenty of Rhenish wine to caroufe in.

to.

ē-

97

1-

re:

.

r.

•

1

d

-

I had the curioficie afterward to goe to the court of the Landgrave of Armestadra Lutheran Prince who lives in part of the richest soyle in Germany. His Highness is a very courteous and obligeing Prince to Strangers, and his subjects are in a pretty good condition again,

F 6 though

though they have been great sufferers by the last war between the Landgrave of Hessen and this familie.

t

6

From thence I went to Heidleberg a city I had been formerly in , in the life time of that wife tho unfortunate PrinceElector elder brother to Prince Rupert. Here I had the Honour to pay-my dutitull respects to the Elector the fon of that great Prince, whose commissary I had the honour to be for two years together in Amferdam. This Prince, fince my being there, is lately dead, and left behind him the reputation of having been a Zealous thorough paced Calvinift, and fo constant a frequenter of the church, that some Sundays he went thrice a day to Sermon; but never failed, if in health, to be once a day at least at the garrison-church; where he took particular notice of fuch officers as were absent. He was married to a most virtuous lady the Royall fifter of the King of Denmark and Travellers in Heidleberg, 122 and his brother Prince George. During his life time the university ofHeidleberg flourished exceedingly, fo that the number of students was fo great that Chambers and lodgings in the citie were scarce, and Spanbemins was about quitting Leyden to return to his proteflors place in Heidleberg, but how matters stand fince his death, I am as yet ignorant. This Countrey is called the paradife of Germany for its fruitfulness in wine, corn, and all forts of fruit, I my felf have teen growing in one plain at the same time, vines, corn, chestnuts, almonds, dates, figs, cherries, belides feverall other forts of fruit. And as the Countrey is fertile in yeelding the fruits of the Earth, fo the people are carefull in providing store room for them, This I take notice of because of the prodigious Rhenish wine fats which are to be feen there, amongst which there are seaven, the least whereof holds the quantitie of 250 barells F 7 of

0

124 Remarks for of Beere as I calculated; but the large and most celebrated fat is that which goes by the name of the great Tun of Heidteberg, and holds 204 fouders of wine , and cost 705 L. Sterling in building, for which one may have a very good house built. This fat I have feen twice, and the first time was; when the Elector treated the French Ambassadours that came to conclude the match betwixt his daughter and Monfieur the French Kings brother, who married her after the death of our Kings fifter his first wife : at which treat there happened an adventure that I shall here please the Reader with. In a gallery that is overthisfat the Elector caused a table to be placed in the midle, exactly above the bunghole of this Monstrous veffell, and to be covered with a coftly banquet of all forts of fweet meats : The day before, all the wine being emptied out of this Tun into other Fats, a litle before the Ambasta-

dours

Travellers in Heidleberg. 125 dours with other forrein Ministers and Persons of qualitie mounted the stairs to come to the place of entertainment; The Elector caused twelve drummers with as many Trumpeters, fome Kettledrums and other mulick to be lodged in the belly of the Tun, with orders to firike up upon a fignall given, when the Elector drank the French Kings health. All being fate down at table and merrily feeding, the Elector drank the health, and the fignall was given; whereupon the musick began to play its part with fuch a roaring and uncouth noise out of that vast cavitie below, that the French and other Persons of qualitie who were unacquainted with the deligne, looking upon it to be an infernall and ominous found, in great aftonishment began to cry out fefn Marie. The worlds at an end , and to thit every one for himtelf in fo great diforder and confulion , that for halte to be gone they tumbled down flaires one over anoanother. All that the Elector con! fay to compose them, was either not heard or not valued, nor could any thing fatisfic and reassure them, till they faw the Actors com marching out of their den. Had not many Persons of qualitie and travellers seen this Fat as wel as my felf who know that what I fay of its incredible bigness to be true, I should be afraid the Reader might think I imposed upon his credulitie.

From Heidleberg I went to fee that impregnable Fort or citadell of Manheim alias Fredericks-berg built by the Elector Frederick brother to Prince Rupert, a Prince of as good a head as any Germany affoarded, who though some have too partially Judged of him by his missortunes, yet by the wisest of the age was accounted the Cato of Germany. The wifelt and best-men of the world have been unfortunate, which makes fome to be of the opinion that God in his wildom thinks

Travellers in the Palatine. 137 thinks fit it should be so, least otherwise they might attribute their prosperitie rather to the wife direction of their own conduct, then his all feeing Providence: and indeed, dayly experience feemes to evince the truth of this; fince wee fee knaves and fools advanced to preferment and richefs, when men of virtue and parts die neglected and poor in the eyes of the world, though rich in the enjoyment of a contented mind. But this is a digression which the honour I have for the memory of that great man hath led mee into, and therefore I hope will be pardoned by the Reader. In the citadel of Manheim I saw some of the Records of that illustrious familie, which without dispute is the most ancient of all the Secular Electors, being elder to that of Bavaria which fprung from one and the same stock, to wit , two Emperours of Germany. Many writers derive them originally from Charle le maigne, by the

L

Y

gyn

0 0

118 the line of Popin King of France There have been severall Emperours of that race, one King of Denmark and four Kings of Sweden, one of which was King of Norway also, belides many great Generals of Armies in Germany, Hungary, France and other Countries. Since I can rememberthere vere five Protestane Princes heires to that Electorall dignity alive; which now by their death is fallen to the Duke of Newbourg a Roman Catholick, whose Daughter is Empress of Germany and another of his Daughters maryed to the King of Portugall. Being to neare Strafbourg, I had the curiolitie to goe fee what figure that famous citie now made fince it had changed its mafter ; for I had been thrice there before, when it flourished under the Emperours protection, with the liberty of a Hausiatick town : And Indeed I found it fo diffigured, that had it not been for the stately Cathedrall Church, and fair streets and bail-

I

Travellers in Stratbourg. 129 buildings , I could scarcely have know'n it, In the streets and Exchange which formerly were thronged with lober rich and peaceable Merchants , you meet with none hardly now but men in buff Coats and scarffs with rabbles of Soldiers their attendants. The churches I confess are gayer, but not fo much frequented by the inhabitants as heretofore, feing the Lutherans are thrust into the meanest churches and most of the chiefe Merchants both Lutherans and Calvinists removed to Holland and Hambourg. Within a few years, I beleeveit will be just fuch another city for trade and Richefs as Brifas is. It was formerly a rich city and well stockt with Merchants and wealthy inhabitants, who lived under a gentle and easy government; but now the Magistrats have little elfe to doe in the government, but onely to take their rules and meafores from a citadell and great guns, which ce.

rk

of

.

-1

.

ne ihar

340 Remarks for which are Edicts that Merchants least understand. I confess Strafbourg is the less to be pityed that it so tamely became a slave, and put on its chains without any ftrugling. Those Magistrats who were instruments in it, are now fenfible of their own folly, and bite their nails for anger, finding themselves no better but rather worse hated than the other Magistrats, who did what they could to hinder the reception of their new mafters the French, I quickly grew weary of being here, meeting with nothing but complaints of poverty, and paying exorbitant taxes; I therefore foon returned to my Perry - London Francfort, and from thence went to Caffells; the chiefe relidence of the Landgrave of Heffen. This Prince is a Calvinist, as most of his subjects are, very grave and Zealous in his religion : He married a Princels of Courland, by whom he hath an hopefull iffue, to wit, three fons

E

d n i

k

1

Travellers in Heffen. and two Daughters. The late King was God father to one of his fons, who was Christened by the name of Charles. Captain William Legg Brother to the Lord Dartmouth representing his Majestie as his Envoy. The court of this Prince does indeed refemble a well governed colledge, or Religious Cloyster, in regard of its modeltie and regularitie in all things, and especially in the houres of devotion. He is rich in money, and entertains about nine thouland men in constant pay, under the command of Count van derlipp, a brave and expert Soldier his Licutenant Generall; but can bring many more upon occasion into field. This familie hath been very happy both in its progenie and alliances, many wife Princes of both fexes having fprung from it; and the mother of this present Landgrave may be reckoned amongst the illuftrious women of the present and past ages. After the death of William

nts

af-

at ut

g.

u-ir

10 er

e

ıt

liam the 5. Landgrave of Heffen her husband, the not only supported but advanced the war wherein he was engaged, did many fignall actions, Enlarged her territories, and at the conclusion of the peace kept under her pay 56 Cornets of horsein five Regiments, 166 Companies of foot, besides thirteen Companies of Dragons, and 14 independent Companies, in all 249 Companies of horse and foot; she was a Princess extreamly obliging to strangers : especially virtuous and learned divines. I had the honour a good many yeares agoe to kiffe her highnesses hand; at which time she was mighty Zealous in promoting an accommodation amongst different Religions, as the Roman Catholick, Lutheran and Calvinist, but especially betwixt the two latter, and therefore entertained Do-Hor Duris at her court in Caffels who wrote severall pieces upon that fubject of reconciliation, and with Ame

Travellers in Lambspring. 143
Iome of his friends had a conference with a learned priest that came from Rome to forward the project; whereupon the Doctor published his book of the Harmoney of Consent, which is highly esteemed in Germany.

ed

he

all

3, ce

of

n-

en

4

19 lè

0

d

1

7:

e

g

.

From this Princes court I direeted my journey to Hanover, taking Lambspring in my way, a place where there is a convent of English Monks; and there I met with a very aged worthy and harmeless Gentleman St. Thomas Gascoique, a Person of more integrity and pietie then to be guilty, fo much as in thought, of what milcreants falfly swore against him in the licentions time of plotting; the Lord Abbot and severall of the Monks I had seen there formerly. This monastery is very obliging to all strangers that travell that way, as well as to theire own Countreymen, and is highly respected by the neighbouring Princes of all perfualions, as the Princes

Remarks for of the house of Lunenburg, the Landgrave of Hessen, and Elector of Cologne, who as Bishop of Hildersheim is their ordinary. The town of Lambspring is Lutheran though under the government of the Lord Abbot and his chapter, who constantly choose Lutheran Magiftrats and Officers for the civill administration, and live together in that love and unitie, that as yet there hath never the least debate happened amongst them; and indeed this harmoney is now to be observed in most parts of Germany where different Religions are professed. When I confidered to many goodly faces both of Monks and students in that Abbey, I could not forbeare to make a ferious reflexion on the number of the English whom I had feen in the colledges and Cloysters abroad, as at Rome, Rattesbonne, Wirtzburg in Lorraine, at Liege, Lonvain , Bruffels , Dunkerk , Ghent, Paris, and other places,

beades

Travellers in Hanover. besides the severall Nunperies, and withall on the loss that both King and Kingdome fuffered thereby . when fo many of our natives both men and women should be constrained to spend their own Estats and the benevolence of others in a ftrange Land, which amounts to more money than at first one may imagine; and this thought, I confess, made me wish it were otherwise. I would not have the Reader to mistake mee here, as if I espoused, or pleaded for any particular party; No, I plead onely for the fentiments of humanity, without which our nature degenerates into that of brutes, and for the love that every honest man ought to have for his Countrey. I am asmucha friend to the Spanish Inquisition, as to the persecuting of tender Conscienced protestants, provided there be no more but Conscience in the case; and I could beartily wish that Papists and Protestants could live as lovingly together

1

c

£

0

n

c

d

e.

e

gether in England as they doe in Holland, Germany, and other Comptries; for give mee leave to fay it, I Iove not that Religion which in stead of exalting, destroys the Principles of morality and humane societie. I have met with honest men of all perfuasions, even Turks and Jews, who in their lives and manners have far exceeded many of our Enthusastick professors at home; and when ever this happened, I could not sorbeare to love the men without embraceing there Religion, for which they themselves are to account to their great master and Judge.

In my progress towards Hanover I touched at Hildersbeim a city whose Magistrates are Lutheran, though Roman Catholicks have the Cathodrall Church, and severall monasteries there. The court of Hanover makes another kind of figure than that of Cassels, it being the court of a greater Prince, who is Bishop

Travetlers in Hangver. Bishop of Ofnaburg, duke of Brunfwick Lunenburg , Hanover &c. Here I had the honour to kis the hands of the Princels Royall Sophia youngest fister to the late Prince Rupert. Her highness has the character of the Merry debonnaire Princess of Germany, a lady of extraordinary virtue and accomplishments, and mistrifs of the Italian, French, High and low dutch and English languages, which she speaks to perfection. Her husband has the title of the Gentlemen of Germany, a gracefull and comely Prince both a foor and on horseback, civill to frangers beyond compare, infinitely Kind and beneficent to people in diffres, and known in the world for a valiant and experienced Soldier. I had the honour to fee his stoops which without controversie are as good men , and commanded by as expert Officers as any are in Europe: Amongst his Officers I found brave Steel-band Gordon Collonel of an

-

n ot

1-0.

to

nd

er

uy

0, 70

la-

ire

he

OP

Excellent Regiment of horse, Grimes, Hamilton, Talbot and others of our Kings subjects. God hath bleft the Prince with a numerous offipring, having fix fons all galant Princes; of whom the two eldeft fignalized themselves so bravely at the railing of the fiege of Vienna, that as an undoubted proofe of their valour they brought three Turks home to this court priloners. His Eldeft fon is married to a most beautifull Princess sole heiress of the duke of Lunenbourg and Zell his elder brother; as the lovely Princels his daughter is lately married to the Electorall Prince of Brandenbourg. He is a gracious Prince to his people, and keeps a very splendid court, having in his stables for the use of himself and children no less than fifty two sets of coach horses, he himself is Lutheran, but as his subjects are Christians of different persualions, nay and some of them Jews too , so both Travellers in Hanover. both in his court and army he entertains Gentlemen of various opinions and Countries, as Italian abbots, and Gentlemen that ferve him, and many Calvinist French Officers: neither is he so bigotted in his Religion but that he and his Children goe many times to Church with the Princels who is a Calvinist, and joine with her in her devotion, His Countrey is good, having gold and filver mines init, and his fubjects live well under him ; as doe those alto of his brother the duke of Lunenbourg, and their Cozen the duke of Wolfembottel, which are the three Princes of the house of Lunenbourg; of whom it may be faid that they have alwayes fluck honestly to the right side, and befriended the interests of the Empire; fo that no by respect, neither honour nor profit, could ever prevail with them, as it has with others, to make them abandon the publick concern.

.

it

ir

CS

is ft

ie

is

1-ñ.

ce

ry

1-

of

e-

io

ch

G 3

From

150

From this Princes court I went to Zell the residence of the duke the elder brother of the familie. This Prince is called the mighty Nimrod becaus of the great delight betakes in horfes, dogsand hunting. He did mee the honour to let mee fte his flables, wherein he keeps 370 horses most of them English, or of English breed: His dogs which are also English, are so many, that with great care they are quartered in feverall apartments according to their Kind and qualities, there being a large office like a brewhouse employed for boyling of male and Cornfor them. It is this valient Prince who tooke Tieves from the French, and made the Mareshall de Crequi. prisoner: he is extreamely obliging. to ftrangers, and hath feverall brave Scottish Officers under his pay, as Mojor General Erskin , Graham, Coleman , Hamilton Melvin and others. His Lieutenant General is one Chaveta Protestant of Alfatia

Travellers in Lunenburg. 151 an excellent and experienced commander; who did mee the hopour to treat mee three days at his house, where with all his Scottish and English Officers, whom he had invited, wee liberally drank to the health of our present King, having, as he told us, ferved under bis Majestie, when duke of Tork, both in France and Flanders, where he gained the reputation both for skill and conduct in the wars not onely from Mareshall Turin a competent Judge, but also from all other General Persons who had the honour to know him, that fame bath made better know'n in the world than the encomium which that generous Gentleman ingenuously gave, and which beere I spare to relate. I shall adde no more concerning this Prince, his Officers, or Countrey; but that he with the other two Princes of the house of Lunenbourg Hanover and Wolfenbottel, can upon occasion bring into the field 36000 G.A. Soldiers

it

e.

y

K

0

of.

h at 0 grac ,

8

Soldiers whom they keep in constant pay, and such men as I never faw better in my life.

After fome stay at the Court of the duke of Zell I went to Hambourg a famous Hanfiatick town. It is a republick and city of great trade, occasioned partly by the English Company of Merchant adventures, but much more by the dutch Protestants who in the time of the Duke of Alba for fook the low Countries and feltled here, and the Protestants also who were turned out of Cologne and other places in Germany; who nevertheless are not now allowed publick Churches within the citie, but at a place called Altena a village belonging to the King of Denmark, a quarter of an houres walk distant from Hambourg. This Commonwealth is Lutheran and governed by four Burgemasters, twenty four Radisberes, and a common Council of all the Burghers who have above

Travellers in Hambourg. 193 40 schellings per annum free hold. The symbole or Motto under their Armes is, da pacem domine in diebus nostris, and in their Standart are these letters S. P. Q. H. The people here grone under heavy taxes and impolitions ; The State becaus of continual! Alarms they have from the King of Denmark or other neighbours; and the intelline broiles that frequently happen here, as well as at Cologne, where the Burgemasters are often in danger of their lives from the mutinous mobile; being forced to maintain fixor scaven thousand men in pay , befides two or three men of war to guard their havens from pirats. I. shall not name all the wayes of impoling taxes which this Commonwealth uses, becaus in most they imitate the methods of the States Generall as to that, which have bin mentioned before: I shall onely take notice of some peculiar euftomes they have, wherein they differ G 5 differ from Holland. When a Barber, fhoe maker, or any other Artizan dies, leaving a widow and Children, another of the fame trade is not admitted to fet up for himlelf as a master; unless he compound with the widow for a piece of money, or else marry her, or a daughter of hers with her confent.

If any man cause another to be arrested for debt or upon any other such that the plaintif must goe along with the Officer who arrests the party and stay by him until the prifoner be examined by the sherist; so that if the sherist be not to be spoken with that night, the plaintist must tarry with the prisoner all night, until the sherist examine the matter, and see cause of discharging or committing the party; but this a plaintist may doe by a proguration Notariall.

It a prisoner be committed for debt, the plaintiff must maintain him him in prison according to his qualitie: and if the party lye in prison during the space of six yeares, at the expiration of that time the prisoner is discharged; and if during the time of his imprisonment, the plaintif doe not punctually pay the prisoners allowance at the months end, the prisoner is set at liberty, and nevertheless the plaintif must pay the Gailer the last months allowance.

ç

Be - seffle - s

This state is severe in the execution of Juffice against thieves, There is marders and cheats. no pardon to be expeded for murder, and a Burgemaster himself is guilty cannot escape. The punishment for Murder is here as in Sweden, breaking maletactors on the wheele, pinching their breafts and Arms with hot Pincers, Speeting them in at the fundament and out at the shoulder, they have also cruel wayes of torturing to make prifoners contes; And are very carefull not to G 6

Remarks for 156 be cheated in their publick revenue; their accisemen and collectors being punished as in Holland. They take a very good course not to be cheated in their accife; for all the mils of the Countrey are in the hands the State ; fo that no baker nor brewer can grind his own corn, but must have it ground at the States mills, where they pay the accife. There is a Generall tax upon all houses, and that is the Eight penny, which nevertheless does not excuse them from chimney money. The States here as at Genoa in Italy are the publick vintners, of whom all people must buy their wine, which they buy from the Merchants, or otherwise import it in their own thips. In their ceremonies of burying and Christening, they are ridiculoufly prodigall; as for instance. If one invite a Burgemafter, he must give him a ducat in gold, if a Raedisheer, that is, an Alderman , a Rixdollar , to every

prea-

Travellers in Hambourg. 157 Preacher, Dector of Phylick, Advocat or Sccretary halfea Rixdollar, and to every Schoolmaster the third part of a Rixdoller. The women are the inviters to Burialls, weddings and Christenings, who weare an Antick Kind of a drefs, having mitered caps as high again as the Miter of a Bishop. The Churches here are rich in revenues, and ornaments, as Images and Stately Organs wherein they much delight. They are great lovers of Mulick; in so much that I have told 75 masters of severell forts of Musick in one Church, besides those who were in the Organ-gallery. Their Organs are extraordinarely large. I measured the great pipes in the Organs of St. Catharins and St. James's Churches, and found them to be 3 foot and 3 quarters in circumference and 32 foot long; in each of which Organs there are two Pipes 5 foot and 8 inches round. The wealth and trade of this citie

ı

3

e

e

11

h

r

n

1-

re

1=

1.

n

n

10

citie encreases dayly: They send one year with another 70 Ships to Greenland, and have wonderfully engroffed that trade from England and Holland , and it is beleeved that small and great there are belonging to this Commonwealth five thousand sayl of Ships. After Amfterdam, Genea, and Venice their bank is reckoned the chiefe in credit; but in trade they are accounted the third in Europe, and come next to London and Amfterdam. Hambourg is now become the Magazine of Germany and of the baltick and northern leas. They give great priviledges to the Jewes, and to all itrangers whatfoever, Espeeially the English Company of Merchant Adventurers, whom they allow a large building, where they havea Church, and where the deputy governour, Secretary, Minifter, and the other Officers of the Company live, to whom they yearly make present of Wine, Beere, Travellers in Lubeck, 159 Beere, Sheep, Salmond and Sturgeon in their feafons. And so much of Hambourg.

n

٠,

From Hambourg I went to Lnbeck, which is also a Commonwealth and Imperiall town. It is a large well built city containing ten parish Churches; the Cathedrall dedicated to St. Peter being in length 500 foot, with two high spires all covered with brass as the rest of the Churches of that ciry are. In former times this city was the place where the deputies of all the Hansiatick towns assembled, and was once so powerfull as to make war against Denmark and Sweden, and to conquer severall places and Islands belonging to those two Crowns, nay and to lend Ships to England and other Potentates without any prejudice to their own trade, wherein they vied in all parts with their neighbours; but it is now exceedingly run into decay not onely in territories, but in wealth and

160 Remarks for

and trade alfo. And the reason of that was chiefely the inconsiderate zeal of their Lutheran Ministers who perswaded the Magistrates to banish all Roman Catholicks, Galvinists, Jews, and all that diffented from them in matter of Religion, even the English Company too, who all went and fetled in Hambourg, to the great advantage of that city and almost ruine of Lubeck, which hath not now above 200 Ships belonging to it, nor more territories to the State; than the city it felt and a small part called Termond about eight miles di-Stant from it. The rest of there territories are now in the possession of the Danes and Swedes, by whom the burghers are fo continually allarmed, that they are quite tired out with keeping goard and paying of Taxes. The city is indeed well fortified; but the government not being able to maintain above 1500 Soldiers in pay, 400 Eurghers

Travellers in Lubeck. in two Companies are obliged to watch every day. They have a large well built Stathouse, and an Exchange covered, on the top whereof the globes of the world are painted. This Exchange is about fifty yards in the length; and but fifteen in breadth; over it there is a Roome where the skins of five Lions which the Burghers killed at the city gates in the year 1252 are kept fluft. The great market place is very large where a monumentall flone isto be feen , on which one of their Burgemasters was beheaded for running away without fighting in a fea engagement. The people here fpend much time in their Churches at devotion, which confilts chiefely in finging. The women are beautifull but diffigured with a kind of Antick dress; they wearing cloaks like men. It is cheap living in this town; for one may hire a palace for a matter of 20 L. a year, and have provisions at very reasonable rates: besides the air and water is very good; the city being supplied with fountains of Excellent fresh water, which Hambourg wants; and good ground for cellerage, there being cellars here sourty or fifty foot deep.

I had the curiofity to goe from Lubeck to fee the Ancient city of Magdeburg, but found it fo ruined and decayed by the Swedish war, that I had no encouragement to stay there. I therefore baftened to Berlin the chiefe relidence of the Elector of Brandenbourg, at whose Court I mett with a very Ingenuous French Merchant who tould me that he and divers other Merchants were defigned to have lived in England, but were discouraged by a letter fent from London, by a French man that was removeing from thence to Amsterdam, for these tollowing reason which I coppied out of his Letter; First because the Reformed Religion is persecu-

Travellersin Berlin, ted in England as it is in France, the which I tould him was a great untruth, for it is apparent that they have been all along graciously admitted, and received into his Majesties Dominions, without interruption, & allowed the free exercise of their owne forme of worship, 'according to the Doctrine & discipline of the Churches of France, nor can they who converse with the French Ministerseither in France or Holland be Ignorant, that the chiefest part, if not all those Ministers are willing to complye with the Church of England, and it is Evident that

ir

ű

0

2

.

0

1

ĉ

3 ê

ches;
A fecond thing was that both the bank of London and the Bankers Gouldfmiths were all broak, the which I tould this Frenchman was not true altogether, for there are many able Bankers whome I named most of the Dutch and Prench Protestants (so called ;) in Holland

make use of Organs in their Chur-

Remarks for 164 as Alderman Fowler , Aldermas Hornbey, Alderman Duncomb, Alderman Founs, Mr. Thomas Cook, Mr. Rob : Vyner , Mr. Childe , Mr. Endes , Mr. Evans and others well known to the world by their folid dealling: neyther was the Bank (as he called the Chamber of London) broak, only it had been under the management of a bad Person whose designe was to bring it into difgrace; belides there is the Euft-India Company an unquestionas ble securitie for those as have money to dispose of , together with another undeniable fecuritie which is Land. Thirdly he faith, that in England there is no Register, and therefore many frauds in purchases & morgages, which begett teadious suites, and renders both dangerous to truft; Fourtly that if a man would purchase land he cannot, being an Alien, untill Naturalized. Fiftly that in England there are fo many plots and Confusions in Goverment that the

¥

the Kingdome is hardly quiet

twenty yeares together.

1.6、カウ

of

n

Sixtly that talle wittnesses were fo common in England and the crime of perjury fo flightly punished, that no man could be fafe in life or Estate if he chanced to be in trouble. Lastly he faid that the English are fo reftless and quarrelesome, that they not only toment and cherish Animolities amongst one another, but are Every foot contriving and plotting against their lawfull soveraign and the Goverment. By such furmifes and infinuations as thefe the Prench and Germans are scared from trusting themselves and fortunes in England and therefore fettle in Amsterdam, Hamburg and other Cittyes, where there are Banks and Registers; This I say is one cause why there are now to be seene at Amfterdam fuch vaft numbers of French and Germans who have much inriched that Citty and raifed the rents of the houses 20 parcent, and

and the filkeweavers grow alfoverierich keeping for many Almes Children to doe their work and having all their labour without any charge only for the teaching them their trades; which but helicated the revenues of the French crown, and will in tyme greately increase the number of the States subjects, and advance ther publick Incomes.

To fay the truth the inconstancy and wantonnesse of the English nation, especially of latetymes, when no other cause could be given for it , but to much ease and plenty, is not only wondered at but refleded upon by foreigners; yet I am morally certaine that could the people of England be once againe united in love and affection as they are bound to be in duty and Intreft. and would they be as willing to contribute to their own hapines as heaven bath been kind and liberal in bestowing the meanes of it, with agood and gratious Prince Colicitous for

Fravellers in Berlin. 167

Jor preserveing the same to them, could wee be so blest as wee have great reason to Expect wee may under the Auspicious reigne of him whose royall Virtues are dreaded by none either at homeor a broad but such as are the disturbers of publick and lawfull Authoritie.

e soc sed ed

r

1

Having made this digression, I return to Berlin, It is a city lately enlarged with fair streets and palaces. The Magistrates of the place are Lutherans, which is the publick establis thed Religion in all the Electors dominions; though he himself and his Children be Calvinifts, He is lookt upon to be fo true to that persuasion, that he is reckoned the Protector of the Calvinilts; and indeed he follicited the Emperour very hard for a toleration of the Protestants in Hungary. His chaplains, as most of the Lutheran ministers also, endeavour to imitate the English in their way of preaching : and his highness is 'so much much taken with English divinity. that he entertains divines for translating English books into the German tongue, as the whole duty of man and severall others. He has a large and Stately palace at Berlin and therein a copious library enriched with many manuscripts, medalls, and rarities of Antiquity. He may compare with most Princes for handfome guards , being all of them proper well bodied men, and most part Officers who ride in his guards of horse. As he is know'n in the world to be a valiant and warlick Prince, so he maintains in pay an Army of 36000 men; belides five or fix thousand horsmen, who in time of war are modelled into troopes; with which body during the late war with Sweden, his highnels in Person beat the Swedes out of his Countrey. Hee keeps his forces in strickt Discipline, obliging all the Officers , if Protestants , on Sundays and holy days to march their fe-

Travellers in Lubeck. verall Companies in order to Church, but if a superiour Officer be of a contrary persuasion, then the next in commission supplies his place. This custome is Religioufly observed by all his highnesles garrisons; whilest he himself with his Children, being five fons, two Daughters; and two Daughters in law, goe constantly to the Calvinist Church adjoyning to the Court. Amongst other acts of publick pietie and charitie, this Prince hath established and endowed some Religious houses or Nunneries for Protestant young ladies, where they may live virtuoully and spend their time in devotion as long as they please, or otherwise marry, if they think fit , but then they lofe the benefit of the Monastery. There is one of these at Herford in Westphalia, where I was and had the honour to wait upon the Lady Abbels the Princels Elifabeth, eldelt fifter of the Elector Palatine and H Prince

sek

2

e

Prince Rupert, who is fince dead. Nothwithltanding the late wars with Sweden and that by the prevalency of France in that halty treaty of peace concluded at Nimwegen, his Electorall Highness was obliged to give back what he had Juftly taken from that crown; yet his subjects flourish in wealth and trade, his highness having encouraged manufactures of all forts, by inviting Artizans into his dominions, and eftalished a Company of tradeing Merchants to the West-Indies, which will much advance navigation 4monght his subjects. And in all humane probabilitie they are like to continue in a happy condition, feing by the alliances his highnels hath made with the Protestant Princes of the Empire, and especially the house of Lunenbourg, they are in no danger ot being difturbed by their neighbours. I told you before that the Prince of Brandenbourg was married to the Daughter of the duke of Ha.

1

1

t

C

Travellers in Lunenbourg. 171 Hanover, fo that fo long as that alliance holds, the families of Brandenbourg and Lunenbourg will be in a condition to cast the ballance of the Empire; they both together being able to bring into the field 80000 as good men as any are in Europe.

d.

h

y

of is

to

n

is 113

1-

2-

3--15

ch

4-

all

to

ng

th

of

ule

ger

h-

he

ed

of 14.

When I parted from Berlin I made a turn back to Lunenbourg in my way to Swedland, where I found severall of my Countrey men Officers in the garifon, who shew'd mee what was most remarkeable in the city, as the Saltworks (which bring in confiderable fummes of money to the duke of Lunenbourg) the Stathouse, and Churches, in one of which I fawa communion table of pure ducat gold. From thence I went into the Province of of Holftein, and at a small sea port called Termond, of which I spake, before, I embarked for Sweden.

He that hath read in the histories of this last age the great exploits of Gu-

t

Ь

b

1

P

r

1

le

21

Guftavus Adolphus and his Swedes, perhaps may have a fancy that it must be an excellent Countrey which hath bredfuch warriours; but if he approach it, he will foon find himfelf undeceived. Entering into Sweedland at a place called Lands. ert, wee failed forwards amongst high rocks having no other prospect from Land but mountains till wee came to Dollers, which is about four Swedish, that is, twenty four English miles from Stockholm, the capitall citie of the Kingdome:upon my comeing a shore I confess I was a litle furprifed to fee the poverty of the people; and the litle wooden houses they lived in, not unlike Soldiers huts in a leaguer; but much more, when I discovered litle else in the Countrey but mountanous rocks and standing lakes of water. The Reader will excuse mee, I hope, if I remarke not all that I may have taken notice of in this Countrey, feing by what

Travellers in Sweden. what I have already written, he may perceive that my defigne is rather to observe the manner of the inhabitants living, then to give a full description of every thing that may be feen in the Countrey they live in. However I shall say somewhat of that too, having premiled once for all that the ordinary people are wretchedly poor; yet not fo much occasioned by the Publick taxes, as the barrenness of their Countrey, and the oppression of the nobles their Landlords, and immediate fuperiours, who till the present King put a stop to their violences, tyrannically domineered over the lives and fortunes of the poor peafants. From Dollers I took waggon . to Stockholm, changing horses three times by the way, by reason of the badness of the rode, on all hands environed with rocks, that hardly open fo much as here and there to leave a shred of plain ground. At two miles distance upon that rode H 3 the

e

0 ft

c

it

ır

ie

n

ne

n,

r;

eet ill

ce

0-

77

25

174 Remarks for the citie of Stockholme looks great; becaus of the Kings palace, the houles of Noblemen, and some Churches which are feated upon rocks; and indeed, the whole citic and Suburbs stand upon rocks, unless it be fome few houses built upon ground gained from the rivers that run throw the town. Stockholme has its name from a stock or logg of wood which three brothers threw into the water five miles above the city, making a vow that where ever that flock should stop, they would build a castle to dwell in. The stock stopt at the Holme or rock where the palace of the King now stands; and the brothers to be as good as their word, there built their castle, which invited others to doe the like; fo that in process of time the other rocks or holmes were covered with buildings which at length became the capital citie of the Kingdome. It is now embellished with a great many Stately

1

Travellers in Stockholme. 175 Stately houses, and much emproved from what it was 400 yeares agoe, as indeed, most cities are; for the Stathouse then built, is so contentible and low that in Holland or England, it would not be fuffered to it and to difgrace the nation. The Council Chamber where the Burgemafter and Raeds fit, is two rooms cast into one not above nine foot high; and the two rooms where the sheriffs and the Erve colledge (which is a Judicature like to the Doctors Commons in England) fit are not above eight foot and a halfe high. The Kings Palace is a large fquare of stone building, in some places very high, but an old and irregular fabrick, without a fufficient quantitie of ground about it for gardens and walks. It was anciently furrounded with water; but some yeares since part of it was filled up to make a way from the castlegate down into the old town. In this Palace there are large rooms; but

the

t;

1-

rbi

it

n

at

ne

g

ne

re

y

n.

30

g

0

e

d

n

1

SIL

Remarks for 176 the lodgings of the King, Queen and Royall familie are three pair of ftairs high, the rooms in the first and fecond ftory's being deftin'd for the Senat Chamber and other courts of Judicature. The Kings library is four pair of stairs high, being a room about fourty fix foot fquare, with a closet adjoyning to it not half the dimensions. When I considered the appartments and furniture of this Court, I began to think that the French Author wrote truth, whoin his Remarks upon Swedland fayes, that when Queen Christina refigned the Crown to Carolus Gustaphus the father of this present King , she disposed of the best of the furniture of the Court, and gave away a large share of the Crown lands to her tavorites; in so much that the Kingconsidering the poor condition she had left the Kingdome in , and feeing the Court so meanely furnished, said that had he know'n before he accepted the Crown, what then

Travellers in Stockholme. then he did, he would have taken other measures.

en

of:

bn

he

of

is

m

h iė

d

of

ıt

0

s,

d

c

e

e-

e

There are many other Stately palaces in Stockholme belonging to the pobilitie; but many of them for want of repairs, and not being inhabited run to ruine; severall of the nobles who lived in them formerly, having loft the eftates that maintained their ancient splendour, as wee shall see hereafter, being retired unto a Countrey life. There are also some other magnificent structures begun, but not finished, as that Stately building intended for a Parliament house for the nobles, and two or three Churches : but what I most wonder at is the vault wherein the late King lies buried, is not as yet covered but with boards, for it is to he observed that the Kings of Sweeden have no tombs and monuments as in England and other Countries; but are put into copper coffins with inscriptions on them, and placed one by another in yaults ad.

H 5

Remarks for

178 adjoyning to the Gray Friers Church. These vaults are about Eight in number, having turets over them with vains of Copper gilt, carved into the ciphers of the severall Kings who give them their names by being the first that are interred in them. The vault of the late King is not yet finished, no more then the fabricks above mentioned, which perhaps may be imputed to the late troubles of Swedland. The number of the inhabitants of Stockholme are also much decreased within these few yeares, partly by reason of the removal of the Court of Admiraltie and the Kings Ships from that citie to Charles crown , a new haven lately made about 200 English miles from thence, which hath draw'n many families belonging to the fleet and Admiralitie from Stockholme to live there : and partly becaus many of the nobilitie, gentry and those that depended on them, are, as I faid before, withdraw'n from Stockholme

Travellers in Stockholme. 179 holme to a retired life in the Countrey. Nevertheless the ordinary fort of Bourghers who still remain are extreamly poor; feing the women are fain to worke like horses, drawing carts, and as labourers in England, ferving masons and bricklayers with stone, bricks and mortar, and unloading veffells that bring those materials; some of the poor creatures in the fummertime toyling in their smocks without either shoes or stockings. They performe also the part of watermen, and for a small matter will row passengers 40 miles or more if they pleafe.

The Court here is very thin and filent, the King living frugally & feldome dining in publick. He eats commonly with the two Queens his mother and confort, who is a virtuous Princels fifter to the King of Denmark. She is the mother of five Children, three fons and two daughters, with whom the spends most of her time in retirement. The

H 6

King

King is a goodly Prince whom God hath blefled and endowed with accomplishments far beyond what might have been expected from his education, wherein he was extreamly abused, being taught litle more than his mother tongue. He is gracious, Just and valiant, constant at his devotion, and utterly averse from all kind of debauchery, and the unfashionable vanities of other courts in playes, and danceings

His Sports are hunting and exerciseing of his guards, and he rarely appeares publickly or gives audience to strangers, which is imputed to his sense of the neglect of his education. He is a Prince that hath had a very hard beginning in the world, which hath many times proved fortunate to great men; and indeed, if wee consider all the circumstances of his early mitsortunes, how he was slighted and neglected by his nobles who would hardly vouchfase to pay him a visit when he

Travellers in Sweden. was among them in the Countrey, or to doe him homage for the lands they held of the Crown; and how by the Pernicions councels of the French and the weakeness or treachery of his governours he was milled into a war that almost cost him his Crown, having loft the Best of his territories in Germany and Schenen, and most of his forces both by fea and land : If I fay, these things be considered, it will probably appeare that hardly any Prince before him hath in a shorter time or more fully fetled the Authority and prerogative of the Crown, then he hath done in Sweden; for which he stands no wayes obliged to France, as he was for the restauration of what he lost during the war. He is now as absolute as the French King, and makes Edicts which have the force of Laws with out the concurrence of the Estates of the Kingdome. He hath erected two Iudicatures the one called the col-

d

2

31

c

182 Remarks for

colledge of Reduction, and the other of inspections; the first of which hath put his Majesty in posfession again of all lands alienated from the Crown, and the other called to account all persons even the heires and executors of those who had cheated the Crown, and made them refound what they or their predeceflors had appropriated to their own use of the Publick revenue. These two necessary constitutions, as they have reduced many great families to a pinch, who formerly lived splendidly upon the Crown lands and revenues, and obliged them to live at home upon their ancient and private Patrimonie in the Countrey, which is one great cause that the Court of Sweden is at present so unfrequented; so have they enabled his Majestie, without burdening of his subjects, to support the Charges of the government, and to maintain 64000 men in pay. The truth is his other Revenues mes are but small , seing Queen Christina enjoys the best of histerritories, as her allowance, and that what arises from the Copper and Iron mines, one Silver mine, the Pitch and Tar, the customes and excise amounts to no extraordinary fumm of money, & the land tax in fo barren a Countrey scarcely deferving to be named. The customes and excise, I contess, are very high, and the rigorous manner of exa-Cting them pernicious to trade; as lor instance. Il a ship come to Stockholme from London with a hundred feverall forts of goods, and those goods affigned to fifty feveral men more or less; if any of those fitty doe not pay the custome of what belongs to him, though it be for a barrel of Beer, the Ship shall not be unladen, nor no man have his goods out, though he hath fully payed the customes for them, till this last man hath payed his. There are feverall other filly sustomes in Swed-

Remarks for 184 Swedland that discourages menfrom tradeing there; as if any stranger die there, a third of his Estate must goe to the city or town where he traded. No forreigne Merchant in Stockholm can travellinto any Countrey where there is a faire without a palsport: and at present seing there is no treaty of trade betwixt England and Sweden, though the English bring as considerable a trade to that Kingdome, as any other Countrey whatfoever, yet they are very unkindly used by the Officers of the custome house; whereas the Dutch, in Lubeck, and other cities have new and greater Priviledges allowed them. Nor would I Counsel an Englishman to goe to law with a Swedish Burgher in Sweden, especially if he be a Whiggish Scot who hath got his treedome in Stockholme, for those are a kind of skrapers, whom I have observed to be more inveterate against the English then the native Sweeds.

Travellers in Stockholme. 185 Of all the Swedish army of 64000 men , the King keeps but 12 Companies of 200 men a peece, with Some few horse guards in Stockholme, who are not upon duty as sentinels at the Court gates, as at the Courts of other Princes. The rest are dispersed into quarters and garrisons upon the fronteers which are fo far diftant in that large compals of land which his territories take up, that it would require a hard and tedious worck to bring them together to a generall muster. They are however kept under very ftrick discipline, and those that lye neare often viewed by the King. They have od forts of punishments for the Souldiers and Officers of all degrees : for example if a Serjeant or Corporall. be drunk or negligent on duty, they are put into armour, and with three musketstied under each arm, made to walke two hours before the Court of guard: yet for all theseve-

n

sitie of discipline used against the Soldiers, they commit many abuses in the night time, robbing and fometimes killing men upon the Arcets in Stockholme , where they have no lights nor guards as in Coppenhaguen. Informer times there have been at one time thirty five Collonels befides Generall Officers in the Swedish Army all the subjects of the King of great Britain , but at present there are few or none, unless it be the sons of some Scottish Officers deceased; nor did I ever lee an Englishman in the Kings guards horse or foot but one, and the ion of Sr. Eduard wood, who hath fince quitted the fervice. The King hath exceedingly won the hearts of the common people, not onely by exempting them from the tyrannical Jurisdiction of the nobilitie and gentry, who formerly would by their own private authority punish and put to death the peasants at their pleasure; which makes the Countries very willing to quarter the Kings Travellers in Stockholm. 187 Kings Soldiers, but by his exactness in punishing duels, murder and robberies. Perjury is death here also as in Holland : which makes the Magistrates in some ports of this Kings territories enjoyn ftrange kinds of oaths to deter men from being forfworn. As for inftance, in some places, the witness is fet, with a flaff in his hand, upon some peeble ftones and charcoale, where he is to imprecate and pray , that if what he sweareth be not true, his land may become as barren as those stones, and his substance be confumed to ashes like the coals he stands on, which as soon as he steps down are fet on fire. This manner of Iwearing to terrifies the people, that they commonly tremble when they come to take their oath.

The Religion of the dominions of the King of Sweden, as of those of the King of Denmark, and of other Princes and states whom wee have named is Lutheran; who are more rigid to Roman Catholicks and Calvinits than the Protestanrs of Germany. There is notolleration allowed here to Calvinift-ministers; and they take an effectuall course to keep the Countrey clear of priefts and Jefuits, by guelding them whether they be young or old. In commemoration of the great loffes and defolation tuftained in the late war, the Swedes firitly keep four falting days in the monthsof April, May, June and July; on which days all men are prohibited by Authority to kindle fire in their houses, or to eat till after Evening fervice is don, which in the winter time could not be endured. They delight much in singing in their Churches, which they constantly performe twice every day, morning, and evening. In their maryings, Christenings and buryings they are so prodigally extravagant, that if all three happen in one yeare to a man TravellersinSweden. man of a competent estate, it is enough to breake him, The clergy of Sweden are neither fo rich nor learned as those of Germany, wanting both the opportunities of study, and of converling with learned men, that those of other Countreys enjoy ; though there be some learned men amongst them. A Bishoprick in Sweden is no great benefice, if compared with fome Personages in England; for the Archbishop and Metropolitan hath not above 400 L. per ann. and some of therestare not worth above 150 or 200 L. a yeare. The inferiour Clergy are not fo regular in their lives and conversation in the Countries diflant from Stockholme, as they are neare the court, and the reason is, partly becaus they entertain travellers that pass the Countrey, there being no Ins in most places for the accommodation of persons of any qualitie, and so are obliged to drink with their guefts: and partly becaus at buryings and Christenings, where there is commonly high drinking, the Pape or Parson is master of the Ceremonies; And here give mee leave, to tell a thort flory of one of them. A Pape comeing to Chriften a Child in a Church, and finding a Scottish man to be Godfather, was forransported either with Zeal or his cups, that when he came to exorcife the Child which is a rite used in their Office of Administring that Sacrament, He neglected the forme prescribed by the liturgie, and in an extemporary prayer begg'd that the devill might depart out of the Child, and enter into that Scottish Heretick; for so they call the Presbyterians of that nation. The prayer of the Pape fo incenfed the Scot that he vowed revenge, and watched the Pape with a good endgell next day as he croffed the Church yard, where he beat him and left him all in blood lying on the ground and crying out murder.

Remarks for

For

Travellers in Hambourg. For this fact the Scot was had before the Justice, who asking him how he durst be so bold as to lay his profane hands upon the man of God, He, who knew very well what use to make of the devill he had got, foaming at the mouth and cunningly acting the demoniack, made anfwer that the Pape might thank himself for what he had met with; for fince he had conjured the devill into him he spared no body, neither wife nor Children, nor would he spare the Justice himself, and with that fell a mangling and tearing the Magistrat, that he was fain to betake himself to his beeles, crying out O! the devill , fave mee; and fo the Scot marched home no man daring to lay hold on him, for fear ot being torn to peeces by the devill. But the Justice recollecting himself sent for the Pape, told him that the Scot was a cunning rogue, and bid him goe home, get a plaifier for his head and be filent; leaft

e c c h c c

Beddfil

if the matter came to the Bishops ears, he might be censured for goeing against the rubrick of the liturgie.

The famous Universitie where their Clergy are bred is Upfall eight Swedish miles from Stockholme, There are commonly 150 or 200 Students there, but no endowed colledges as in other Countries. The library is fo meane and contemptible that the libraries of many Grammar Schools and of privat men in England or Holland are tar better ftored with books then it is. Upon viewing of it, and that of the Kings Palace, I called to mind the faying of a French man, upon the like occasion; That Swedland came behind France and England in the knowledge of men and things ar least 800 yeares; yet lome Swedes have been so conceited of the antiquity of their Countrey, as to bragg that Paradice was feated in Sweden, that the Conntrey was turned

-1

1

Travellers in Sweden. surned into fuch heaps of rocks for the rebellion of our first parents, and that Adam and Eve had Cain and Abelina Countrey three Swedirb miles diftant from Upfall. French man standing by and hearing this Romantick flory, as I was told, fitted him with the like , telling him that when the world was made in fix days, at the end of the creation all the Rubbish that remained was throw'n together into a corner , which made up Sweden and Norway. And indeed the French seeme to have no great likeing to the Countrey, what ever kindness they may have for the people, for a French Ambassadour, as an author of that Countrey relates, being by order of Queen Christina treated in a Countrey house 4 Swedish miles from Stockholme, and upon the rode goeing and comeing, with all the varieties and pleasures that the Countrey could affoard, on purpose to make him have

e

Y

e

t

1

n

n

have a good opinion of the lame; made answere to the Queen (who asked him upon his return what he thought of Sweden) that were he master of the whole Country, he would presently sell it & buy a farme in France or England; which, under favour, I think was a litle tart and fawcy.

Having Rayed a confiderable time in Swedland, and moft part at Stock bolme, I fer out from thence to goe to Effenbourg by land , and went's litle out of my way to fee a fmall city called Enbrone famous for a coat of Arms which it got in this mannet. A certain Malculine Queen of Denmark who had conquered a great part of Sweden , comeing to this city, asked the Magistrates, what was the Arms of their city; who having fold her that they had hone, the plucked up hereaks and fquatting upon the Snow, bid them take the marke the left there for their "Arms: It's pity the did not give them

Travellers in Sweden. a suitable motto to it also. What that figure is called in blazonerie I know not but to this day the city uses it in their Armes, and for marking their commodities. This Queen came purposely into Swedento pay a visit to a brave woman that opposed a King of Swedland, who in a time of famine would have put to death all the men and women in his Countrey above fixty years of age. The Countrey all the way I travelled in Swedland is much of the same qualitie of the land about Stockholme, untill I came nearethe Province of Schonen which is called the store house and Kitchin of Sweden, where the Countrey is far better. It was formerly very dangerons to travell in this Province of Schonen, becaus of the Snaphances who were a kind of bloody robbers, now utterly destroyed by the King; fo that it is fale enough travelling there. Entering into Schonen I faw twenty nine of

hò

he he

he

nie.

nd

ne coc ta

all

át

et. of

to

y; id id in 196 Remarks for

of these rogues upon wheeles, and elsewlere in the Countrey, ten and twenty at feverall places. The King used great severitie in destroying of them; fome he caused to be broken upon the wheele, others spected in at the fundament and out at the shoulders, many had the flesh pinched off of there breafts, and to were fastened to stakes till they died, and others again had their nofes and both hands cut off, and being feared with a hot Iron were let goe to acquaint their camerades how they had been served. The King is very fevere against Highway - men and In above a hundred miles travelling, wee found not a house where there was either French wine or brandie, which made mee tell a Swede of our Company who was travelling to Denmark, that I would undertake to fhew any man goo houses wherein a traveller might have wine and other good accommodation in the space of an Travellers in Copponhaguen. 197 hundred miles upon any rode from London. There are severall small towns and fertile land in this Countrey of Schonen, lying upon the Sound; at the narrowest part whereof lies Elfenbourg burnt down by the Danes in the last war: Here I croft over to Elfenore, the passage being but a league broad.

e

4

e sith old

1-0 yyddahe

0 n

n

The King of Denmark has a castle at Elfenore which commands the narrow passage of the Sound, where all Ships that enter into or come out of the Baltick fea must pay Having vilited this caltle and fai'd about a forenight with the English Consul, and Sr. John Pant late relident at the Court of Swedland, I went to the danish Court at Coppenhaguen.

Copenhaguen is the capitall city of Zeeland, Juiland or Denmark and place of relidence of the King It stands on a flat , encompassed with with a pleasant and delightfull Countrey much resembling England. The ftreets of the city are kept very neat and cleane, with lights in the night time for the convenience and fafetie of those who are then abroad; a custome not as yet introduced into Stockholme where it is dangerous to be abroad when it is dark. The Kings men of war lye here very conveniently, being orderly ranged betwixt Booms after the manner of Amsterdam, and neare the Admiralty house, which is a large pile of building well furnished with stores and Magazines, secured by a citadell, that not onely commands the city, but also the Haven, and entrey into it. The Court of Denmark is splendid, and makes a far greater figure in the world then that of Sweden, tho not many yeares agoe in the time of Carelus Guffaphus the father of the prefent King of Swedland , it was almost reduced to its laft, when the walls

Travellers in Coppenhaguen. 199 of Copenhagen faved that Crown and Kingdome. That fiege was caried on with great famous , vigour by the Swede, and as bravely maintained by the Danes : The monuments whereof are to be feen in the canon bullets gilt that still remain in the walls of fome houses and in the steeple of the great Church of the town. The Royall palace in Copenhaguen is but small and a very ancient building, but his Majesties house Fredenburg is a flately fabrick of Modern Architecture, and very richly furnished. Denmark is at present a flourishing Kingdome and the King who hath now made it hereditary, furpaffes most of his predeteflours in power and wealth : He hath much enlarged his dominions, aswell as Authority, and by his personall and Royall virtues, no less then the eminent qualities of a great many able ministers of State, he hath gained the universall love of his subjects, and the esteeme of

he

at

ht

-

d

ek.

re ly

e

e

d d

200 Remarks for

all forreigne Princes and States. The Court it much frequented every day, but especially on Sundayswhere about eleven of the clock in the morning, the Nobility . forreigne Ministers, and Officers of the Army affemble and make a glorious appeareance. There one may fee many Knights of the order of the Elephant of Malto but I never faw any order of the like nature as that of Sweden, that King rarely appearing in his George and garter, but on days of publick audience I have observed at one time above 150 coaches attending at the Court of Denmark, which are ten times more than ever I saw together at that The King is affable of Sweden. and of easy accels to ftrangers, feen often abroad by his subjects in hisgardens and stables, which are very large and well furnished with all forts of Horfes. He is a great lover of English horses and dogs, and delights much in Hunting, as his eldeft.

Travellers in Copenhaguen. 201 eldeft fon the Prince with his brothers doe in cockfighting; in fo much that the English Merchants can not make a more acceptable prefent to those Princes, then of English game-cocks. The standing forces of Denmark are well disciplined men, and commanded by good Officers both natives and ftrangers, both French and Scots, as Major General Duncan, and Major General Veldun both Scottishmen, whom I faw at Copenhaguen. The Soldiers, aswell as courtiers are quartered upon the citizens, a cufrome which is likewise practised in Sweden, and tho somewhat uneasy, yet not repined at by the people who by the care and good governa ment of the King find trade much advanced. For his Majestie by encouraging strangers of all religions to live in his dominions, and allowing the French and dutch Calvinifts, to have publick Churches , hath brought many tradeing families to Cop-

Coppenhaguen , and by the meafure he hath taken for fettling trade in prohibiting the importation of forreigne manufactures, and reforming and new modelling the East and West India Companies, hath much encreased commerce and thereby the wealth of his subjects; so that notwithstanding the new taxes impoled upon all coaches, waggons, Ploughs, and all reall and personall estates, which amount to confiderable fumms of money, the people live very well and contented. There are commonly about eight thousand men in garison in Coppenhaguen, and his Majeftier Regiment of foot guards who are all cloathed in red, with cloaks to keep them warm in the winter time, is a very handsome body ofmen, and with the horse guards who are bravely mounted, and have their granadeers and Hoboyes, makeavery fine shew. His Majestie hath caufed feverall new fortifications to be

Travellers in Copenhaguen. 203 built upon the Elb, and other rivers, and hath now in his poffession that ftrong Caftle called Hilgneland, at prefent commanded by a Scottishman, The Queen of Denmark is a most virtuous Princes, fifter to the present Landgrave of Heffel-Caffel, and in persuasion a Calvinift, having a chappell allowed her within the Court; though the publick religion of the King and Kingdome be Lutheran, The Clergie here are learned, many of them having fludied at Oxford and Cambridge where they learnt the English agguage, and amongst the Bishops there is one Doctor King the fon of a Scottilhman. But feing it is my deligne rather to observe the condition of the people, then to be punctuall in describing all the rarities that are remarkeable in the Countries I have been in, I shall conclude what I have to fay of Denmark, by acquainting the Reader that the people of that Countrey live

Remarksfor

204 live far better then the Saveder; and afwell as most of their adjoyning neighbours ; and that there are feverall places, both there and in Norsway which have the names of English towns, as Arundale, Tornes, London &c.

When I fift began to write this treatife, I had fome thoughts of making observations upon the leverall governments of other States and Dominions, where I had travelled some years before I was in the Countries I have been speaking of, as of the rest of Germany , Hungary, Switzerland, Italy and France; but that was a subject fo Mirge, and the ufetulness of it to my prefent deligne to inconfiderable, that by doeing to, I found I could neither fatisfic the curious, by adding any shing materiall to thole many who have already obliged the publick by the remarks of their travells in those places; or make my discontented Countrey men more averse then Travellerin Copenhaguen, 205 they are already from removing into those Countries, where I think few of them will chuse to transport themselves for the lake of liberty and Propertie, tho England were even worle, than they themlelves fancy ir can be. All that remains to be done then, is to conclude this treatife with an obvious and popular remark, that those Countries where eities are greatest and most frequented by voluntary inhabitants, are alwayes the best to live in; and by comparing the city of London with all other cities of Europe, and demonstrating by the furveys I have made (which I think will hardly be contradicted or confuted,) that of all the capitall cities of Europe it is the biggelt, and most populous, & so prove confequentially that England, for the generality of people, is the best Countrey in the world espe-cially for its natives to live in. Now this being an observation, (for what I know) not hitherto made good by induction and inflance, (as I intend to doe it.) I hope it will please the Reader as much, as if I gave him a particular account of other Countreys and governments, and leave it to his own reflexion to State the comparison.

Remarks for

206

Though London within the walls cannot vie for bignels with many cities of Europe; yet take the city, and fuburbs together, according as it hath been surveyed by Mr. Morgan, in breadth from St. Georges Church in Southwarke to Shore ditch, and in length from Limehouse to petty Francein West, minster and it is in a vast proportion larger in compals of ground, and number of houses then any cay whatfoever in Europe. shall demonstrate first by compareing it with some cities of Holland, and then with the most considerable cities of the other Countries of Europe, which I shall fet down in an alphabeticall order with the

Travellers in Switzerland. 207

rally contain.

When London and Suburbs was furveyed some years agoe by Mr. Morgan, there were reckoned to be in it 84000 houles besides hospitalls , Almeshouses , and other buildings that payed no chimney money to the King: Now if those were added, and the vast number of new houses that have been built fince that furvey, upon modelt computation London may be reckoned to countain 100000 houses; I know the French doe vapour and would perfwade the world that Paris is much bigger then London. And the Hollanders will fcarce believe that London hath more Honfes then the 18 Cittyes in Holland that have voyces in the States, for fay they AmsterdamStands upon a 1000 Morgens land, and London Stands but upon 1800; To both which I answer, that it is very true that Paris takes up a great spot of ground,

but

but then you must consider, that in-Paris there are feverall hundreds of Monasteries , Churches , Coledges , and Cloyfters, some of them haveing large Gardens, and that in Paris there are 7500 Palaces and Ports for Coaches, which have likewife great Gardens, whereas London is very thick built, and in the Citty the Houses have scarce a Yard big enough to fetta Pump, or House of conveniency in; but the weekely bills of Mortality will decide this Question and plainely give it to London, and fo doth Mons: la Cour, and Sir, William Pette in his laft Effayes dedicated lately to our King, makeing it appeare that London is biggerthen Paris, Rhoan, and Roebell altogether; and as for Amfierdam I doe appeale to all knowing men that have feen it, that although it betrue that it Stands upon 1000 Morgens Land; yet there is not above 400 Morgens built, and this I prove thus, that the large Gardens,

Travellers in Copenhaguen. 200 on the Heeregraft , Kyferigraft , and Princegraft, and the Burgavalls of Amsterdam take up more then a third part of the Citty, then reckonthe Baftions, and the space of Ground | betweene the Wall , and the Houfes, and all the Ground unbuilt from the Utricks-Port , to the Wefoper-Port, Muyer-Port, and so to the Seafide, and you will find it to be near 300 Morgens land: There are 2 Parishes in the Suburbs of London , viz Stepney , and St. Martins in the feilds, (the later being so big that the last Parlement divided it into 4 Parisbes,) either of them have more Howles then Rotterdam, or Harlem, and there are severall other great Parishes as St. Margrets - Westminster , St. Giles in the feilds, Toolyes , and St. Mary Overs, the which if they flood apart in the Country would make great Cittyes, wee reckon in London and the Suburbs thereof to be at least 130 Parishes, which containe 100000

210 Remarks Co.

100000 Howfes, now if you reckon 8 perfons to everie house then there are neare 800000 foules in London, but there are some that fay there is a million of foules in it; I shall now fet downe the Cittyes Alphabetically and their number of Honfes as they were given to me not only from the Surveyours and Citty Carpensers, but from the Bookes of the Herthmoney, and bookes of the Verpoundings, where fuch Taxes are payd; and first I shall begin with the 18 Cityes that have Voyces in the States of Holland,

or finite . one in it to . we defrain the feller Trojer , and St.

To Parisher . White

Salem blung y troat pal Cittyes Manager of the Landau

Cittyes			1	Houses.
Tort.				5500
Harlem.		-		7250
Delph.				2300
Leyden.	-		•	13800
Amsterdam.				25460
Rotterdam				8400
Tergoe.	-	- 4		3540
Gorcom				2460
Schiedam.				1550
Brill.			-	1250
Schonehoven.		-	•	2200
Alckmaar.				1540
Horn				3400
Enckbuyfen.				5200
Edam.		1		2000
Monekendam.				1500
Medenblick.		-		850
Purmerent.	•		•	709

Cittyes in Germany and in the

A Niw	erp.		18550
A Aix	la Chi	apell.	2250
Arford.		-	8440
Berlin.			5200
LATE OF STREET			Bonn.

Cittyes				Houles.
Bonn		3.2		410
Brefack			cles	1200
Breme.				9200
Breda.			-	3420
Boldnke.				6240
Bergen op 2	Zome			2120
Bruffels.				19200
Cologne				12000
Gleave.				640
Coblins.	-1			420
Castells.				1520
Drefden.		-		6420
Diffeldorpe.				620
Dunkirk.				2440
Emden.				2400
Francford.				10100
Groningen.				8400
Guant.				18200
Harford,				1420
Hanover.				1850
Heidelberg.				7510
Hamburg.				12500
Lubech				6500
Louain.	-			8420
Lypfick.				3140
Lunenburg,				3100
AFRENT.				Lewar-

Cittyes			···	loufes.
Lewardin.				5860
Mayance.				2410
Malin.			-	8000
Middelburg.				6200
Madelburg.				1120
Mastricht.				5600
Munfter.		•		1240
Nurenberg.				18240
Osenburg.				2100
Osburg.				.8420
Oldenburg.		•		620
Prang.	-		_	18640
Paffaw.			-	560
Ratisbone.	-			6540
Strasburg.				8560
Spire.			-	540
Stockholme.				.6480
Salsburg.			-	12460
Viriek.	:			8240
Viana.	-	-		4520
Vean.			•	340
Wormes.				1200
Weltburg.				2420

Cit-

Cittyes in France.

Sealer Co.
A Vinion	- 12400
Amiens	5200
Bullion	• 1400
Bomont	- 800
Burdeaux	- 8420
Calis	1324
Cane.	- 2147
Chalon.	- 1850
Diepe	1920
Lyons .	- 16840
Montruill	- 820
Monpiller	5240
Marfellis, -	- 9100
Nantes	4420
Nemes	3120
Orlians	- 10200
Orange	- 354
Paris.	- 72400
Rochell	4200
Rom	111400
Tolonze	13200
Valance.	458
	42

Cita

Cittyes in Italy.

Section - Section
B Clonic				12400
	ice.		,50	8520
Fanua.	-			17200
Luca.	-			1650
Legorne.				3960
Milan.		-		18500
Napells.				17840
Pefa.		-	-	1290
Padua.				8550
Rome.				31200
Sena.	-		-	1820
Venetia:			-	24870
Veterba.	-			620
Valentia.				1520

Cittyes in Savoy.

CHambra Salé.	ıy.				-	852
Salé				-		T320
Turin.						8540
Nece		-		-		500
St. John de	La	tter	an.			420
Remes.						340
· Sug	1	y.				Moloy.

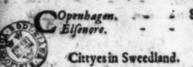

Chtyes -

Houses,

Cittyes in Switserland,

PErne.		2815.70	4276
B Ball.			5120
Geneve.	*		4540
Lofana.	 		2100
Solure.			500
Zuriek.	 		6100
Worge.			210
St. Morris		306	300
Mark Water Charles	 		200

Cittyes in Denmark-

Cittyes in 5	weedland.	(x 18
N Orthoanen. Stockbolme, Upfall.		600 7500 8200

F I Nollated profes